

Romulus Schedules Public Hearings on No Hunting Ban

ROMULUS—State Representative Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus has called on all interested Romulus Township residents to attend a hearing on a proposed hunting ban in the township.

The Public Hearing will be at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 21 in the Romulus High School gymnasium.

The ban on hunting has been suggested because of complaints by the residents. The Hearing was scheduled by Representative Mahalak.

He said that the Michigan State Police, Wayne County Sheriff's Department, State Department of Natural Resources and the Romulus Township Board have been invited to have representatives at the meeting.

"IN THE five years I have been in the Legislature and during the ten years in which I served as Justice of the Peace, I have heard numerous complaints about hunting in the township," Mahalak said. "We have reached a point now where we Romulus Township residents must make a decision on whether we want hunting to continue in the township." "The Public Hearing is a preliminary step toward the elimination of hunting in the Township," Mahalak stated.

Opinions at the Hearing will be taken under consideration by a hunting area control committee, which is composed of representatives of the Department of Natural Resources, State Police and Township Board.

If the committee decides that hunting constitutes a danger of disturbance to the community, it can recommend to the Township Board that hunting be banned. This can be accomplished by a local ordinance passed by the Board.

THE TOWNSHIP BOARD already has such an ordinance under study.

"Because of the growth of the Township," Mahalak said,

"there is a question as to whether or not hunting should continue there. I was pleased to assist by arranging for this Public Hearing, but the final decision must be made by Township residents and their elected local officials."

Letters, advising them of the Hearing, have been sent to Township residents. "I hope that as many persons as possible take the time to attend this important Hearing," Mahalak said. "If they are at all interested in this matter, now is the time for them to express their feelings on whether they want to see hunting continued in Romulus or whether they want it banned."

MAHALAK HAS conferred with the Township Supervisor, Roderick E. Smith, and other local officials on the hunting situation. Mahalak had been asked by the Township Board to assist it in effecting a hunting ban in Romulus.

Police Chief Asks Drivers Not Wait on Winter Car Care

ROMULUS—Chief of Police Jacob J. Koch has expressed concern over upcoming problems of keeping Romulus' emergency services operating efficiently during the winter months ahead.

Chief Koch stated that whether a badly needed public emergency vehicle gets through often depends on a private auto's "go-power," rather than its own.

"It should be obvious that snowy or icy roads can bring traffic to a standstill," Chief Koch pointed out, "as traffic becomes hopelessly snarled because of stalled cars." Somebody simply waited until it was too late to get prepared.

"Not so obvious, but just as frustrating are cold or frosty mornings. Cars stall and a traffic tieup results."

THE CHIEF emphasized that municipal vehicles undergo carefully planned maintenance check-ups well in advance of the first disabling winter weather.

He offered some "go-power" suggestions, based on recommendations of the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards which have been endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"Go-power in cold weather calls for a well-tuned car," according to Chief Koch. "The car's points, plugs, timing, and a waterproof electrical system must be backed up by a lively battery. Call on a professional mechanic. Have him also inspect and adjust the brakes; check the radiator and windshield washer for the right kind of anti-freeze.

"All lights should be working and headlights properly aimed."

"WIPER BLADES must wipe clean. They should be replaced with live rubber if they smear. Wiper arm pressure must be adequate to clear away snow and slush - the correct pressure is an ounce to the inch of blade length."

The Chief went on to say that tires must have good tread. He recommended snow tires or studded tires for added traction. "But tire chains give the maximum traction; see that they're the right size for your tires, and replace any broken links."

The Chief said go-power when the roads are slick depends on having emergency equipment in your trunk - booster cables, tow chains,

Township's Civic Center Construction Start Nears

Firm Offer to Buy Bond Issue Made

$1,975,000 is Authorized For Building First Phase

BY HENRY CANTIN
ANP Staff Writer

ROMULUS—Construction start of the initial phase of Romulus Township's new Municipal Complex in the very near future appeared a certainty this week.

Roderick E. Smith, township supervisor, disclosed that a "firm offer" to purchase the total bond issue, authorized and approved by Michigan Municipal Finance Commission for construction, has been received.

An application filed with the state by Romulus Building Authority, which will operate the Municipal Building Complex, for approval of a $1,975,000 bond issue was approved some weeks ago.

The Bond Market at the time of approval was "Very inactive and practically negative" which delayed further progress toward construction.

THE OFFER to purchase the bond issue was made by the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Smith reported.

The bank's purchase offer was revealed at a meeting of township, Building Authority and bank officials held at the Romulus Branch of the Manufacturers National Bank on Nov. 5.

At this meeting were Steven Riga, Jr., vice-president of Manufacturers National Bank,

CITES TIPS FOR YOUTH

Judge Stone Stresses Necessity of Being Prepared Behind Wheel

By Judge James Stone
34th District Court

In the time I have served as District Judge for the 34th District, I have come to realize that the most serious problem we face in this community is the problem of traffic violators.

As I have mentioned on these pages previously, the greatest portion of our business in the District Court involves traffic related law violations. Unfortunately, the majority of these violators are between the ages of 17 and 25.

Because of this fact and the fact that I too am the father of youngsters in that age range, I feel obligated to stress the necessity of being prepared to meet the serious responsibility of operating a motor vehicle.

THE IDEAL time to prepare yourself for the hazards of driving is while you are learning the art. If you would concentrate on the defensive driving techniques during the early years of practice, the results would be well worth the effort.

For example: It is a fact that more young people up to age 25 die from traffic accidents than any other cause. In Michigan, traffic fatalities in 1967 claimed the lives of over 7,000 persons under the age of 26.

In addition, for each fatal accident there is an average of three permanent injuries, 78 other injuries of all sorts, and 1,000 property damage accidents. In our country more people have died in traffic than in all our wars since 1755.

YOUNG PEOPLE are particularly qualified to do something about this. They are original and have ingenuity, almost limitless energy and do exceptionally well in group activities.

The organizations of older persons would gratefully accept the cooperation of young people.

Youth can do itself a great service - counteracting negative criticism of young drivers with positive constructive action. As an individual, as a club member or as a part of your student body you can have an effect on traffic safety.

The most lasting impact you can have is as an individual. You can and must spread the word that it is "smart to be safe". Discourage your friends from participating in activities that might place someone on a stretcher or in jail, don't, under any circumstances, ride with wild drivers or with persons who have been drinking!

BEING MORE specific, I'm sure that most of the young drivers in this area are familiar with the two "drag strips" in this area. In Van Buren Township on Tyler Road, and in Romulus Township, on Northline Road.

On Northline Road, there have been many accidents as a result of drag racing. Only recently, one of the Police Seek OK On Pact

The Association will seek approval of contract terms involving hours, benefits and other related matters, Patrolman Robert Kahl, president of the Association, reported.

Negotiations between the Association, approved by the Township as the sole bargaining agent for police officers, and the Township were initiated in February of this year.

Junior Miss Entry Deadline is Today

ROMULUS—Today is deadline time for applicants to enter the Huron Valley Junior Miss Pageant.

The Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees is to be held at the Romulus Junior High School on Nov. 22, Leonard Folmar, Junior Miss Pageant chairman, announced.

Applications to enter the Pageant are available at both the Romulus Senior High and Huron High Schools.

Applicants must be seniors having good grades. The winner of the 1970 Junior Miss title will be awarded a scholarship and many other prizes.

State Officials Support Trailer Owners

CANTON. An estimated 80 persons, representing 12 trailer parks, heard three elected government representatives pledge their help and co-operation in improving the plight of the residents of trailer parks at a recent meeting held in Van Buren Township.

State Reps. Vincent Petitpre, (D-37), and Ed Mahalak, (D-38), and Ed Bizek of the Wayne County

Board of Supervisors each delivered strong speeches underlining the need for trailer park regulations and offered their utmost effort to secure that Legislation.

Petitpre said he was hopeful of holding a hearing within 30 days in the Canton area to which the Urban Renewal Executive Board would be invited and to whom representatives from each trailer park could testify.

Mahalak outlined some of the problems his brother-in-law faced in a trailer park located on I-75. He said he knew many of the conditions facing the people and concluded: "I'll do everything in my power to help."

Bizek, who works in the area of sanitation and roads, said he'd also be available for help. "Call on me anytime and I'll help you," he said.

Representatives of the 12 trailer parks have tentatively set Canton Mobile Homeowners Assn. as the central headquarters for signing new members to the mobile home owners association, according to Mrs. Pat Thomas, press secretary for Canton Assn.

"Fear is still keeping many people from joining the association," Mrs. Thomas said. "We can't emphasize enough that we need to band together peacefully to work out better conditions for all of us."

Mrs. Thomas said one resident of Wagon Wheels Trailer Park, 15400 Mott, Canton, reported that the Wagon Wheels Park manager and several others were seen pulling flyers off the doors of the mobile homes there so the people wouldn't know about the meeting Thursday night.

Terry Thomas, Vice-President of Canton Mobile Homeowners Assn., was a little less enthusiastic this week after meeting with Walter Goldsmith, spokesman for management of Canton Mobile Village. "Mr Goldsmith has been very agreeable," Thomas says, "but all we hear is 'we'll see' or 'We'll look into it.'"

Thomas pointed out where he felt Canton Mobile Village did not measure up to state laws and sanitation codes. "Section 68 of Michigan Trailer Park Laws states there must be a fire extinguisher within 200 feet of each trailer, and there isn't," Thomas said.

"We also want qualified electricians, plumbers and heating men doing the repair work in the park. And the Wayne County Board of Health keeps promising to make the park clean up the dump in the back, but it hasn't been done yet," Thomas added. He said his group was sending a registered letter to state health officials in an effort to get action.

Veterans Day

November 11 is Armistice Day or, as it is now designated, Veterans Day.

Armistice Day is the anniversary of World War 1 in 1918; and while, since 1954, it has been celebrated as Veterans Day, its purpose remains the same. It is a day devoted to honoring the millions of men who have given their lives and their services to their country in the armed forces.

Originally it was a day of speechmaking and resurging patriotism. Every family displayed the American flag with pride and humble gratitude for all that it represented—the freedom and security of our homes, the protection of the individual against oppression from whatever source and a guarantee of respect for the U.S. by all nations.

THERE ARE those who are inclined to view the flag and patriotic observances as anachronisms and somewhat juvenile.

These cynics may have had their eyes opened to the fact that the flag is far from a dead symbol when they looked about them following the death of former president Eisenhower.

Flags flew from millions of homes and public buildings. Mr. Eisenhower symbolized the greatness of a nation, just as does Veterans Day. On such occasions displaying the flag is an instinctive act of all good citizens.

EARLY ACTION BY SUPERVISORS PROMISED

Study Youth Crime Programs

DETROIT—Early action to implement new programs to combat youth crime is promised by the Chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in the wake of a year-long crime study.

Board Chairman Albert J. Zak indicated that an early step would be a decision by the supervisors to build a second Juvenile Court and Youth Home, west of Detroit.

Results of the County-sponsored study which concluded that youth crime is the major law enforcement problem in Wayne County, were presented to the Board of Supervisors Nov. 3.

THE REPORT declares that present programs for dealing with youth crime are "grossly inadequate." It recommends major improvements in present facilities, plus sweeping new programs.

The Board of Supervisors, meeting as the ways and means committee, referred the report to three of its committees for joint consideration and recommendations.

"These committees have been instructed to work out a formula for implementing the recommendations to the maximum extent possible," said Zak, of Hamtramck, D-District 8.

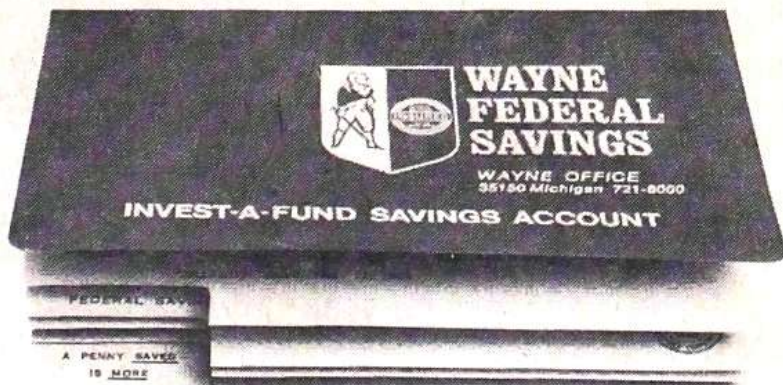

"The Board of Supervisors has given top priority to the youth crime problem in next year's County budget," he added, "and we certainly do not intend to have this report just drawing dust on the shelf."

ZAK POINTED out that construction of a second Juvenile Court — Youth Home is now under consideration by the supervisors planning and capital improvement committee, chaired by John Lesinski, of Dearborn, D-District 20.

NEW MEMBERS—The induction of two new members into the Romulus Rotary Club has been announced. Above is Ron Hopson, past-president, (left) congratulating the two after their installation. They are Leonard Folmar, 35870 Cypress, Urban Renewal assistant for Romulus; and George Wilhelm, of 36747 Greenbush, Wayne, Urban Renewal director.

Mahalak Reports

ROMULUS—A large delegation of local officials, both school and municipalities attended a hearing in Lansing. Also, by the arrangement of State Representative Edward E. Mahalak, eighty school children with their adult leaders from the Romulus School system observed the House Committee on Taxation.

Those representing schools and municipalities from the 38th Legislative District were Robert L. McConeghy, superintendent of the Romulus Schools, Charles E. Cresswell, superintendent of the Summerfield Schools and George Angel, Huron Township supervisor.

House Bill 3878 was reported out of committee. It would remove the present six percent maximum limit at which municipal bonds may be sold. Because of the tight money situation, municipal bonds at a maximum of six percent has had few bidders at recent offerings.

Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Expands

ROMULUS—Kelsey-Hayes Company has announced that it is expanding its Kelsey Axle Division to increase both the production and marketing capabilities of the division.

Plans include new manufacturing and assembly facilities at division headquarters in Elkhart, Indiana; a new 60,000 square-foot production and assembly plant in Chino, California; and assembly facilities in Montezuma, Georgia, and McMinnville, Oregon.

In announcing the expansion, R.A. Maxwell, the company's vice president of marketing, pointed to the rapid growth of the mobile home/recreational vehicle industry which is served by the Kelsey Axle Division.

"WE ARE now in a better position to supply this industry with complete running gear assemblies, including axles, wheels, hubs, drums and brakes", he said.

"Kelsey-Hayes has supplied this industry with components for years", Maxwell added. "Now, through our axle division, we are a fully integrated manufacturer with nationwide marketing capabilities."

The new facilities in Elkhart, called by Maxwell "the most modern axle line in the industry", will go into operation in November. They will provide for automated production and assembly of axles in sizes ranging from 1 3/4 to 4 1/4 inches in diameter and from 48 to 100 inches in length.

 PRODUCTION FACILITIES also will be installed in the new plant to be built on a 10-acre site in Chino, California. Axles made there will be assembled both at Chino and at a newly leased plant in McMinnville, Oregon.

Until the Chino plant is ready, in early 1970, the division is operating out of a leased plant in Mira Loma, California.

In Montezuma, Georgia, a newly leased 24,000 square foot plant is already in operation assembling axles for shipment to mobile home and recreational vehicle manufacturers in the southeast.

Kelsey-Hayes formed its axle division in October, 1968 after purchasing the Indiana plant of Prior Products Inc. of Dallas, Texas.

The Municipal Complex is slated to be built on a 16-acre parcel of land, located southeast of Wayne and Goddard Roads. The land is owned by the Township.

The initial phase will take in eight of these acres for the construction of the Municipal Building and library.

When the entire project is completed it will consist of a four building civic center that will embrace a police station and community center.

50 HOMES INVOLVED UR Sewer Tap-ins Await Legal Ruling

ROMULUS—The situation of sewer tap-ins in the Urban Renewal Area of Romulus Township has been referred to John E. Young, township attorney, for a recommendation and review by the Township Board.

Roderick E. Smith, township supervisor, reported that George Wilhelm, Urban Renewal director has been asked to work on a program of holding off the sewer tap-in installations in certain section of the UR area pending legal solution of the problem.

Under Wayne County Board of Health and Township ordinance provisions, sanitary sewer tap-ins must be made within 60 days after notice to the property owner to do so by the health department.

It seems meaningless to have the owners of properties in the Urban Renewal section under study to pay the cost of sewer tap-in when the property is for slated for Urban Renewal Development.

A possible preliminary policy, Smith stated, would be to have a moratorium on sewer tap-ins, or authorized an amendment to the ordinance to provide relief for a specific period of time.

Little League File Larceny Complaint

ROMULUS—A police investigation is underway in Romulus on the non-return of monies collected in this year's Candy Sale held under the sponsorship of Romulus Little League Baseball Committee.

Police Chief Jacob J. Koch reported that a complaint alleging Larceny by Conversion on the part of some eight area residents who failed to turn in their Candy Sale collections has been made by Robert J. Walicki, president of the Little League Baseball Committee.

It was learned that approximately $1,500 is involved in the investigation.

Chief Koch also reported that the 34th District Court, located in Romulus, has instructed his department to make a thorough probe into the complaint that had also been received by court personnel.

The Candy Sale was held last June, 1969. The proceeds of the annual sale go toward the expansion of the baseball program and related activities of the Romulus' Little League Baseball.

participating vehicles went out of control and struck the car of a spectator. Unfortunately, the spectator was sitting on the outside of the car watching the contest. His leg was amputated near the knee, to save his life.

It is my opinion that at least part of the thrill would be taken out of street racing if spectators would refuse to encourage them by watching. I'm sure that the loss of a leg or a life is too high a price to pay for such questionable entertainment.

THE PENALTY that you pay for failure to comply with safe driving rules can be measured in dollars and cents in the cost of insurance, the fines and costs assessed for violations, and the cost of maintaining an automobile that is abused beyond its mechanical endurance.

The social ramifications must also be considered. Time spent in jail for violating the law is not an attractive entry on any social register.

I implore you to take the first steps toward ridding the younger generation of its reputation for negligence on the highway.

LOOK AROUND your community. What do you see that needs doing to improve traffic safety? Get facts, consult authorities. Visit your local police, Sheriff, or State Police Post. Come sit in my courtroom some day. What you see will amaze you.

Metro Place Quiet; But Things Are Doing

Metro Place is coming to Wayne, but when? We have seen plans and have heard rumors yet seemingly nothing concrete has developed yet. What is the Metro Place corporation doing? Where are the buildings? Where are the tenants who are supposed to join A & P in the new shopping center?

Negotiation of such leases is no small matter and the public should be aware of this fact. Legal as well as commercial dealings are involved and a firm, large or small, does not make such investments without careful consideration of all of the facts and figures.

Progress is being made, but it is behind the scenes and to protect the negotiations, it is kept from the general public.

The Metro Place corporation is continuing in their efforts to finalize plans and have contracts signed in order to begin construction, which will mark the beginning of the physical development which we will all be able to see. In order to get the physical development underway, however, it is necessary to complete the often tedious but always necessary negotiation of leases and contracts.

Price is another consideration. Each store or business outlet pays more or less per square foot depending on the type of business and square footage required. A restaurant, for example would require more plumbing in their establishment than would a dry cleaning outlet. Because a store with 2,000 square feet of space requires two lavatory facilities does not mean that a store with 10,000 square feet of space will require 10.

Bert Gordon, who is handling the negotiations, must keep these and many other items in mind when preparing leases and contracts for prospective tenants and must also keep in mind their particular needs and interests.

Because we don't see something happening, does not always mean that nothing is happening. In this case, there is much going on that we do not know about and that we by rights should not know about because it is a private matter between the business parties. We owe those involved that much.

Drug Abuse Fight Begins at Home

It's a rare week in Western Wayne County that doesn't find some parent group or civic organization hearing yet another speaker give expert testimony on the dangers of drug abuse among our children.

The problem is becoming well known to all of us. Only a few would still deny that drugs, or marijuana, are used with a disturbing frequency by local teenagers, and undoubtedly, by a few adults as well.

Experimenting with drugs or pot for many young people has led to something more—there is a far greater tendency for the young to become dependent on drugs or pot just to get through the daily routine. They're not a lot different than some adults we all know who just can't get along without a martini before lunch and two or three before dinner—it becomes more than fun; it becomes a need.

A good program of education is going to help, and the schools are helping. Parents are becoming more aware, and local governments are learning that they can help, too, through the police departments, and other public agencies.

But there is also a need for local residents to ask themselves why drugs and pot have become so attractive to the young. What's so bad about life that young people should want to escape from it?

There are many answers to the question, but they all point to the fact that a young person who turns to drugs or pot for satisfaction in his life is living in a void that somehow has got to be filled.

Involvement in society, more jobs for the young, places for them to spend their time in their own pursuits, interested parents who at least attempt to understand their offspring—all of these can help, too.

Drug abuse can be battled in a number of ways. The homefront is a good first battleground.

A WORD FITLY SPOKEN

Last Leaf's Lament

By Jim Bradley

It looks like I'll be the last to go. All around me is loneliness. I'm hanging by the slightest thread, fluttering in circles waiting for the end to come.

All Summer long I was crushed among the crowd and ignored. Those more beautiful or colorful than I were plucked and admired, held up for appreciation—but I was hidden as faceless in the throng. Time has moved silently on. Summer's warmth has long since gone and the cool end of autumn is nigh.

Answering the inevitable death knell of fall, my friends have fallen to the depths of despair and faded away. The glow of youth has left their faces and now their sunken, hollow cheeks are pale brown in death. Looking down into their bland faces, I'm thankful for what I have to cling to.

Age has crept over me, too, as I cling to the last vestige of life. My home is bare—left forsaken by the departure of my friends and family. Even the autumn wind has turned cool toward me. My few remaining friends wave from across the street. A fond farewell to a glorious golden summer.

It's late fall now and I am the last to go. My wrinkled skin is brown with age. I was green on the job at first, but experience and the sun has tanned me to my present drabness... I feel I'm losing my grip. Please don't shed tears when I pass on. If my passing beauty has brightened someone's life, then my living has not been in vain.

I hear the drum roll of death. The piper is playing and I feel the cool wind carrying me to my destiny. As I flutter to the ground I'm not sad, for I know I've accomplished my purpose in life.

And though I'll be raked and burned with those who've gone on before, even then some chilled soul may be warmed by my fire.

'If It Fitz—'

Too Sick At Any Price

By Jim Fitzgerald

Would you believe I paid $100 to hear Gov. Ronald Reagan speak — and then walked out before he opened his mouth?

Neither would I. So let the truth be told: I was present on an editor's discount, which is better than that given clergymen. But everyone else at the banquet, which covered a whole basketball court with no room to dribble, paid 100 bucks for a $5 dinner. The idea was to raise money to help Michigan Republican legislators get re-elected. And if I'd keep my big mouth shut, a lot of influential people might think I'm a rich Republican, thus refuting the often-heard rumor that I'm a poor Communist.

(Actually, I'm a prohibitionist. I drink, but I want to bring back bootlegging so George Raft won't have to make those degrading TV commercials. That's no kind of work for a self-respecting crook).

However, the price of the meal really doesn't matter. Free or $1,000, I probably would have left before the speech anyway. And this is nothing against Reagan. True, he was a pretty bad actor. The only movie I liked him in was Kings Row, when he got chopped in half. And also true, he is not my idea of what a governor should be in the 20th century — or even the 18th. I keep having this nightmare where he is elected president and appoints John Wayne secretary of defense.

But still, I should have stayed and listened to Reagan. It was bad manners to leave. But I have this phobia or illness or something. I can't stand speeches. They give me a severe case of the twitches, a rash, and nausea. The only cure is escape. Why is that, Doctor?

You might think this is a serious affliction for a newspaperman to have. There's no question that my profession sometimes requires that I listen to a speech. But not as often as you might think. Most hep speakers today supply the press with printed copies of their remarks before they make them. This allows the reporters to read along with the speaker, usually moving their lips. And their stories the next day always contain such illuminating paragraphs as: "Departing from his prepared text, Senator Smith coughed."

However, when there is no advance copy to ease my escape, and I am duty-bound to report the lousy speech, I manage to survive by playing a little game. I try to make notes on what the man says before he says it. For instance, if Ronald Reagan says "I have no objection to college students speaking their minds," I know his next word is going to be "but." Or if President Nixon says "The 1954 Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in our schools must be enforced," I know his next words will be, "However, we must move slowly."

And so on. Everytime I'm right, I reward myself by taking a long look at the prettiest broad in the place, usually a waitress. When I'm wrong, my punishment is having to eat one of the cold green peas which I've hidden under my napkin.

This game doesn't prevent the twitching, rash and nausea, but it keeps me from thinking about it and scratching in public.

Onward and Upward.

Lift Up Your Head

Life Is No Simple Matter

By Rosemary Kozielski

The days of Paul Bunyan and other brawny American heroes is over. Today's problems are just not going to be solved by muscle-bound men.

Paul Bunyan, with ax in hand, carved his way through the north woods, felling trees and making way for civilization. This legendary figure made a name for himself by conquering nature, and in a sense, destroying it.

He is hardly a fit hero for today when it has become apparent that man must conserve nature, rather than destroy it.

What would Paul Bunyan do today if he were faced with crime in the streets or poverty? Perhaps he would suggest a solution advocated by many Americans: lock up the criminal and kick the poor man in the pants to get him off his duff.

The direct approach may have been quite the thing when chopping down trees. But the same approach does not work when dealing with crime or poverty.

Certainly too few police is a real problem and a very serious one. On the other hand, if every citizen in a city of 50,000 were bent on committing crimes, how big a force would be needed to prevent them from doing so?

More police with better training and more equipment is a necessity. But perhaps the reason there is so much crime today is that ten or fifteen years ago many small boys grew up in miserable neighborhoods, without much family life and got rotten educations.

Now grown up he may be completely alienated from society with little respect for other people's property and other people's lives.

Similarly people slough off the problem of poverty by saying "It's their own fault; they're just lazy." Is a man poor because he doesn't have money? Or does he lack money because he "thinks poor" — that is, believes that he will never have any money or amount to anything because his father never did or his grandfather before him.

Saying that he's lazy is just avoiding the real question. Does he have the same equipment to succeed that a middle class citizen does? Does he have the same health, the same education, the same goals and aspirations, the same belief in himself and his worth? I think not.

It's probably just as well that Paul Bunyan rests peacefully in the pages of some American folklore book. He would probably be sad if he found out that life in America isn't as simple as it used to be.

Lindsay: A Two-Party Challenge

By Richard McKnight

John V. Lindsay is a Republican, or was, until the New York City mayoral election last week.

Lindsay, repudiated by his own party in the primary last September, was elected to a second term on the Liberal party ticket, with help from about 15 percent of his supporters who chose him on a separate Independent ticket.

Technically, Lindsay should be anathema to his party, since he refused to abide by the party verdict in the primary. Party politics usually leaves little room for bad losers.

But in reality, Lindsay is something of a national hero. He showed his own Republican party how foolish they were to reject him in the first place, since the majority of New York City voters wanted him anyway. So who is the loser? Certainly not Lindsay, but almost certainly his own party.

Rogers Morton, the Republican national chairman, was on the hotspot when he said that Lindsay could come back into the party, if the local party would take him. If the local party refuses to take Lindsay, they will be rejecting the Mayor of the nation's largest City — no small power base. If the party takes him back, they will have to swallow their pride and admit they were wrong.

Chances are that the Republicans still want John Lindsay. But John Lindsay may not want the Republican party. If he does not want the party, he will have to become a Democrat, which seems unlikely, or he will have to start a new party, almost certainly a Liberal Party.

As one of the rare men in public life who win office outside the two-party system as we know it, John Lindsay has proved that it can be done. He is living proof.

There are going to be a lot of liberals, in both the Republican and Democratic parties, who could be attracted with a little prodding, to a new Liberal party. Most liberals have so far been content to live within the framework of the Democratic party. Republican liberals have always run the risk of living a lie — like Senator Edward Brooke seemed to be when he supported President Nixon.

The Democratic party's broad base has made room for the liberals, although most liberals are far from satisfied with a Democratic party that counts on their votes, but often ignores their presence when it comes time to nominate candidates and take stands on the issues.

Could Lindsay do it? A lot of party professionals on both sides of the fence would dearly love to know. Lindsay's victory is very likely the kind of political phenomenon that could open the door to the birth of an important third party.

If the Democratic party is smart, it will smell the coffee in time to save the bacon for their own team.

The party has done it before. It can almost certainly do it again.

The Public Letter Box

To the Editor:

The recent annexation of a small portion of Van Buren Township by the City of Belleville came as no surprise to a large segment of Van Buren citizens.

The statement by Ed. Stoelton, township supervisor, regarding "piece meal annexations" only shows his knowledge about the lack of confidence the people have in the future of Van Buren Township and the desire of our Township government to work for the good of the citizens of the Township.

No one wants to remain in a Township where taxes have almost doubled in the last four years with no increase in Township services - where Township officials increase their own salaries whenever they feel like it - where large parcels of land are rezoned for the "good of the community" but promised "tax bonanzas" are never realized - where rezoning of lands for trailer parks is easier to get than a permit for burning rubbish - where open cesspools are allowed to be built in our own back yards with Township permission - where our Township Supervisor was forced to resign because of conflict of interest charges, was appointed to a newly made water and sewer commission and was again forced to resign because of conflict of interest charges - where that supervisor was allowed to appoint his successor - where one third of the Township government offices are currently held by appointees - where twice before our Township officials fought against annexation to Belleville because in their words "it is not good for our community", but now those same officials are spearheading a campaign to bring city status to Van Buren Township or annexation to the City of Belleville.

Can you really blame those people for wanting to remove themselves from our self-centered, non-responsible, politicians who are concerned first about their own gains and secondly about the interests of our citizens.

Responsible government begins with responsible people, able to consider the good of the community before themselves. What Van Buren Township needs is NOT new boundaries, NOT a city status, and NOT annexation to the City of Belleville. What we need is responsible people in our Township Government.

TO THE EDITOR:

Please accept my commendation for your publishing in full in your Nov. 5 "Letter Box" the letter from our patriotic countryman, Lance Corporal David A. Riley, U.S. Marine Corps in Vietnam, whose home is at 510 West Huron River Drive, Belleville.

More important, I wish to express my sincere gratitude to Corporal Riley for his straight-forward loyalty to our government in its refusal to abandon Vietnam and our allies in the Pacific and Asia without some assurance of an honorable peace.

In the face of his sacrifices and devotion to duty, how can the demonstrations and riots against our government and all authority be justified?

IT IS certain that no one wants Honorable Peace more than our President, his administration and thousands more of our loyal citizens! But when segments of our population encourage disrespect for government and authority by public revolt without considering the consequences, they are simply giving aid and comfort to the enemy and "letting down" our loyal fighting men like Corporal Riley and the thousands who have made even greater sacrifices.

What we need in this country at this time more than anything else is a "Stand for Unity" like that taken by Corporal Riley!

I have written the President, through "United We Stand, Inc.," expressing my position and I enclosed a copy of Corporal Riley's letter from your paper with the hope that it may provide encouragement and support during this trying time in our country's history.

To any who have not read

Corp. Riley's letter, I certainly recommend it and will do my best to provide an opportunity.

TO THE EDITOR:

I am sure that a great number of people are wondering what they, as individuals, should do about the Vietnam moratorium scheduled for Nov. 15, 1969.

Some, no doubt, will take part in planned demonstrations, or other activities, but many more, we hope, wonder if there is an alternative.

There is an alternative for Americans who feel that the aim of the moratorium is little short of out and out surrender to the demands of the Vietcong.

IN MANY shopping centers, on Nov. 15, 1969, citizens who want to make their voice heard will have an opportunity to sign petitions to be sent to Congress asking for a stop of all aid and trade with our Communist enemies and that our men in Vietnam be given a fighting chance to win the war!

The petition drive which is being sponsored by local Train Committees (To Restore American Independence Now) seeks to show that the majority of Americans do not support a sell-out in South Vietnam, which would dishonor the memory of thousands of American soldiers that laid

(Editor's Note The Van Buren Civic Association presented a talk by Vincent Piersante, chief of the Organized Crime Division of Michigan Attorney General's Office at Belleville Junior High School on Nov. 4. The following article was written by Miss Patricia Green, senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Green of 600 Sumpter Road. Patricia is a member of the Belleville High School's government class who heard Piersante's address.)

By Patricia Green

If you feel that organized crime is a bunch of young hoodlums getting together to steal a car or hold up the corner store, you had a chance to find out differently last Tuesday, Nov. 4. Vincent W. Piersante was present at their lives down for their country.

The petition points out that we are at war - that this is the third largest war in American history; that our enemy is the total Communist bloc of nations, and that, while Congress has not declared war, we are in a war in which every Communist regime has declared its support of North Vietnam.

THE PETITION also reminds us that since the war began most of the material used by North Vietnam to prosecute the war has been provided by the Soviet Union and its captive states.

We also suggest that those who disagree with or Belleville Junior High School to speak about organized crime.

Mr. Piersante had a great deal to say and he expressed a most sincere concern in the corruption that is infiltrating into our everyday lives without our realization that it is happening.

THE SPEECH started out by defining organized crime as commercialized crime. Then it told of the development beginning with the street crimes that don't effect our economy.

Street crimes are the thefts in a local store where the kid is quickly apprehended. The punks got together and started working on strategic crime which include disapprove of the aims of the Vietnam moratorium that they fly their flags on Nov. 15, 1969, in memory of the more than 40,000 brave American soldiers who have died in Vietnam in the course of duty to their country, and thereby show that we do not believe, as do the moratorium proponents, that they died in vain.

The moratorium, color it what you will, is not for the Red, White and Blue.

The stand up for America alternative takes more courage to pursue than it does to join the mob.

Josephine Chapman
Chairman,
Belleville TRAIN Committee

organized gambling and narcotics distribution. These do effect our economy.

The vast amount of money which is acquired through strategic crimes is going to be difficult to explain to the Internal Revenue Service, so it is invested into a legitimate business. This is a good front. It also earns more money for the organization. The more the money the larger the business that it can be invested into.

SO NOW we see organized crime infiltrating into big business such as G.M. and U.S. Steel. Where can these people go from here? The only place left is the government. When that happens we're in trouble.

Mr. Piersante went on to tell how many and what kind of people are involved in organized crime. He stressed the point that intimidation, violence and murder are not a thing of the 1920's; they still exist today and are the basis of the government of the Mafia.

The explanation of how organized crime could exist in our society today led to a plea for each of the persons in the auditorium to do all he could to fight organized crime.

THROUGHOUT his speech he suggested ways to put a "dent" in it, but in the end he said no laws could hurt organized crime as much as the expression of ones own FAITH, INTEGRITY AND MORAL COURAGE.

These, too, are the things that our country was and is based on. They can now overcome organized crime if you will use them.

From Icebreaker

Word was received November 1 by the Park Gregory family of 375 Brain Avenue, Belleville, from a friend, Dr. Hugh Robertson, who is aboard the new Canadian ice-breaker, the St. Laurent in the High Arctic, as ship's surgeon. The communication was posted from Resolute Base on Cornwallis Island north of Canada where the Gregory's met Dr. Robertson a year ago.

The icebreakers, St. Laurent and MacDonald, are accompanying the tanker Manhattan on its return voyage after being the first to open the Northwest Passage. Dr. Robertson's message states, in part: "We reached Resolute September 21 and went West September 22 for ice trials. We went through heavy ice to Bank's Island and Southwest to Prince of Wales Straits, then orders turned us east to standby for the Manhattan and MacDonald. The ice was much heavier on the return. We stayed with the ship until we came to Resolute on October 13. New ships take a beating on the maiden ice-breaking trip and ours is no exception. She is a good icebreaker but requires many repairs and adjustments. We all leave (Resolute) October 28 with estimated time of arrival at Dartmouth, N.S., November 7 or 8. The Manhattan is stopping there and putting on a party...."

Dr. Robertson is an official with the Canadian Department of Health in Ottawa.

Huron River Drive, Belleville, became Mrs. Moore in a six o'clock ceremony October 18 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Father J.B. Rose presided at the double ring rite before an altar adorned with bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Michael Ives at the organ played traditional wedding selections.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her father, Nancy appeared in a toe-touching creation of silk organza over satin with an attached circular train. Seed pearling frosted the little fitted bodice which was fashioned with a stand-away collar and wristpoint sleeves. The seed pearl motif was repeated on lace appliques which accented the gown.

Her petaled headpiece in matching fabric clasped her silk illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of white baby mums and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The bride's best friend, Kathy Hogan of Belleville, donned a formal gown with a brown velvet brocade bodice and skirt of mortar-colored crepe. The dress was sashed with brown satin at the empire waistline. The brown satin bow which comprised her headpiece was edged with a matching veil and she held cascading yellow Fuji mums, orange mums, and winter wheat.

Bridesmaids in identical ensembles were Deborah Belanger, of Ypsilanti; Sandy Kucharski, of Lincoln Park; Marlene Farrugia, from Farmington, the bride's cousin; and Sienna Waddell and Virginia Pokrywki, both of Belleville.

Junior attendant was Ruth Moore, sister of the bridegroom, and her escort was David Grant, of Belleville.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Moore, of 45155 Robson Road, Belleville, asked Mike

Klimecki, of Belleville, to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Harold Belanger, of Ypsilanti; Paul Moore of Lincoln Park, cousin of the bridegroom; Tom Everard, of Ypsilanti; and Jim Fielder and Bill Vandecar, both of Belleville.

At the reception, which took place at Roma Hall in Livonia, the 300 guests were greeted by Mrs. Merecki in a pale beige brocade coat-dress ensemble with a corsage of cymbidium orchids. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Moore donned a mint green crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

Both graduates of Belleville High School, Nancy is employed at the University of Michigan Health Service, and Larry is a printer apprentice at the Ypsilanti Press.

Marge Emerson Is
Guest Speaker At BPW Meeting

The Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club met at Edgemont School Monday, November 3, with Mrs. Marge Emerson, as guest speaker for the evening. "Sex Education in the Public School" was the topic of her speech on which she was well qualified to talk since she teaches Home and Family Living to 10 sections of seniors at Belleville High School.

Mrs. Emerson was asked to address the group to review the topic of sex education as it is a timely issue on the local, state, and national levels. She explained what is presently being taught in the Van Buren Schools, reviewed the basic points in the proposed state K-12 Sex Education Program, and summarized the basic programs instituted in other schools in the Wayne County at the present time.

HER TALK stressed that even though education can try to eliminate some of the ignorance regarding sex, education cannot establish a moral code—this can only be taught in the home by word and example.

Mrs. Emerson urged everyone to investigate for themselves the claims and objections which they hear or read about in the newspapers, on the radio, TV, and through other forms of communication concerning sex education and to beware of surface claims and generalized statements. Check into the matter thoroughly or personally to determine whether or not the impression reflected by the media is actually true or a part-truth. Much injustice can be served if all the facts are not known by the general public unless they know all the facts, pro and con.

Following the evening program, the general business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Helen White, president. One of the topics discussed was the annual candy sale which was reported to be off to a good start. Sales have been very good thus far but there are still plenty of mixed nuts and butter mints available from all BPW members. It was also decided to change the date for the December meeting to the eighth rather than the first.

FOR THAT AFTER-SCHOOL SNACK—Now that school is well into autumn months, your teen-ager will find it easier to attack that pile of books with a plate of good cookies at hand. Chinese Almond Cookies and Coconut Date Scrambles are both delicious and have flavor and nutrition bonuses, being made with honey-flavored puffed wheat. Besides, they're really simple to make, too.

Does Your Teen Eat Sensibly?

Last year the U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a report on the American diet which seemed to indicate that we're not eating well enough, and that only half of our households had diets the researchers could class as "good." (A "good" diet was one that contained recommended allowances of the several nutrients studied.) The report has since sparked much controversy, partly because some experts feel that recommended allowances for some nutrients are higher than needed. They also questioned the report because food eaten away from home (very considerable for many people these days) wasn't included in the research.

However, the report was intended to give a broad picture of what Americans are eating these days, and most nutritionists agree that there's still room for improvement in many individuals' diets. And while most teen-agers' diets perhaps aren't the total disaster areas once thought, other studies indicate that the most problems are apt to appear in this age group, and particularly among teen-age girls.

Just how do you go about bridging the "generation gap" in getting more of the right sorts of food into your teen-ager? As you well know, nagging (bad psychology for any age) doesn't help. And just having the right foods around the house isn't the whole solution—you must be a little clever in presenting them in a "groovy" form.

Two cookies along these lines are Chinese Almond Cookies and Coconut Date Scrambles. The latter is actually more of an unbaked confection—fun and quick to make—you just "scramble" them up in a skillet and shape them into balls. Both cookies include Post Super Sugar Crisp Puffed Wheat, crunchy and flavorful, besides being nutritious.

Chinese Almond Cookies

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon almond extract
3 cups honey-flavored puffed wheat
1/3 cup blanched almonds, halved or slivered

Sift flour with sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles cornmeal. Add egg, water and extract. Stir until mixture comes away from sides of bowl. Knead until smooth. Chill until mixture is firm enough to handle. Shape into balls the size of a walnut. Roll each in cereal. Place on greased baking sheets. Make an indentation in top of each cookie and fill with almonds. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until edges are brown. Cool on rack. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Coconut Date Scrambles

1 cup chopped dates
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups honey-flavored puffed wheat
1-1/3 cups (about) flaked coconut

Combine dates, sugar, and eggs in a skillet. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture pulls away from sides of pan—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in walnuts and vanilla until thoroughly mixed. Then carefully stir in cereal. Cool slightly. Moisten hands in cold water and shape mixture into small balls. Roll in coconut. Chill and store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature about 30 minutes before serving. Makes 2-1/2 dozen confections.

Bulletin Tells How to Dress, Cook Venison

A new bulletin from the Cooperative Extension Service discusses some of the laundry methods with which most housewives are familiar.

Special pre-soak detergents, the bulletin explains, sometimes work better than some regular detergents, especially on all-cotton fabrics. Repeated soaking may be necessary, however, and this makes laundry a much more drawn out affair.

On the other hand, regular detergent and bleach used as pre-soak agents, may be just as effective.

Hot water is sometimes needed to remove especially heavy stains, and is often used

A new bulletin detailing how to prepare venison for the dinner table is now available through the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University.

Entitled "Venison...Upper Peninsula Style," the 20-page pamphlet offers guidelines for the handling of deer meat from the moment the animal is shot through dressing out, skinning and cutting up late traditional dinner parcels. Included are 45 different recipes originating in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Author of the publication is Gail E. Bowers, county extension director for Menominee County.

Single copies can be obtained free of charge by writing for Extension Bulletin E-657 at the Bulletin Office, Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. 48823. Additional copies are 10 cents each.

Area's Square Dancing Interest Reported Rising

BELLEVILLE--With increasing interest shown in square dancing the following on one of the area's square dancing groups is submitted, was The "B" Squares of Belleville, started in October, 1967.

It all began with a fun night at the United Methodist Church of Belleville.

The fun night got many of the couples present interested in square dancing. They called Ron Seim, of 1635 Regene, Westland, and asked if he would come back to Belleville and start a beginners' class. He did.

Seim is a caller, instructor and has been calling for about five years in and around Wayne and Belleville.

IN THE fall of 1968 a beginners' class was also started at the Haggerty Road Elementary School, and a beginners' class was taught at Belleville High school in the spring of 1969.

Upon completion of a course of 16 weeks, the two groups were graduated receiving diplomas and badges. They were joined with the intermediate group from the United Methodist Church of Belleville.

This year they all meet and dance the first and third Friday each month from 8 to 12 p.m. at the Haggerty Road School.

THE GROUPS' host and hostess for 1969-70 year are Marian and Fred Knofski, and Norma and Al Tyler. Their duties are to greet each couple and to plan many fun filled nights for the group and the caller as well.

They have recently made a visiting banner which can be claimed by another club if at least four couples come to visit and dance.

They then can take the banner back to their club. The banner can only be gotten back by four couples of the "B" Squares going to visit their club dance and reclaiming it.

Many different badges can be earned by doing various stunts which provide fun in the club.

The "B" Squares are in for a lot of square dancing this year and quite a few fun filled nights.

Many of the evenings planned are to be surprises for them.

Ron Seim also has another beginners class that now meets at the Wayne Recreation in Wayne. They are called the "Heel Stompers." It is too late to get in this year. However anyone wishing to join a beginners' class or plan a fun night call Ron of his wife, Jo, at 728-7273 for more information.

50 Children Treated To Cider Mills Trip

By CHRISTINE ANDERSON

ROMULUS--Fifty children from the Romulus Neighborhood Action Center's "Activity Program" were guests last Thursday (Nov. 6) at the South Huron Cider Mills in New Boston.

The field trip was a "treat," sponsored by a group of Livonia Bentley High School students who plan and conduct a Children's Activity Program for disadvantaged youngsters each Saturday at the Center.

Mrs. Bobbie Jean Hardy, supervisor of the Romulus Action Center stated, that "It was a well spent day for the volunteer students as well as the kiddies."

UPON ARRIVAL the children were greeted by Charlie Grover, owner of the South Huron Orchard, who conducted a tour through the Apple Orchard of some 5,000 apple trees of various kinds explaining how the apple trees are planted, how they grow and how apples are carefully picked.

The children learned that bees are brought to the orchard to stimulate the blossoms while trees are in the process of blooming.

Mrs. Hardy explained that the youngsters visited the storage room to see where apples are kept at certain temperatures to preserve from shrinkage.

THE YOUNG boys and girls saw how apples are polished by machine. They watched apples being made into cider and put automatically into jugs. And most of all for the kiddies free apples, cider and donuts.

The concert will be presented in four groups. The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Professor Emily Lowe, will perform a group of early English madrigals. The Madrigal Singers will tour Europe in the summer of 1970.

'69 Seal Campaign Opens Here Today

The 63rd annual Christmas Seal campaign to raise funds to help fight tuberculosis, emphysema and air pollution opens officially today.

Heading the Wayne County campaign is Miss Lucinda Ann Cooper, 23, of East Rockwood, and Jack A. Tompkins, vice president of American Airlines and a long-time member of the board of directors of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Wayne County's Christmas Seal agency.

Miss Cooper, a victim of tuberculosis when she was 21, was chosen to reign over the fabulous Cinderella Ball staged annually by the Women's Committee of the TB and Health Society.

She was officially named Wayne County Christmas Seal chairman on Friday (Nov. 7) during the annual kickoff luncheon hosted by Malcolm L. Denise, vice president-Labor Relations, Ford Motor Co., who also heads the Society's Public Relations Advisory Committee.

Lucinda will make public, radio and television appearances to explain how an apparently healthy person can contract tuberculosis and not be aware of it. She will also urge everyone to answer the Christmas Seal letter now being mailed to homes in Wayne County.

Tompkins, seeking a goal of $450,000 for Wayne County, said appeal letters are going to some 900,000 homes and businesses in the area, asking for contributions. The 1969 Christmas Seals feature a group of children dancing around a pine tree.

Christmas Seal workers, through education, research, detection and treatment, are dedicated to conquering all diseases that impair breathing.

They have adopted as their battle cry: "It's a matter of life and breath!"

Wayne County has a goal of $450,000 and, according to Tompkins, appeal letters are going to 900,000 homes and businesses asking for contributions.

APPROVE ANOTHER Planners Request Study on Rezoning

BELLEVILLE-Van Buren Township planning Commission action on a rezoning petition filed by George Rohler, owner and operator of the Belleville Manors Mobile Homes, located at 8701 Belleville Road, has been postponed pending a report by the township's planning consultants, Parkins, Rogers & Associates.

Rohler is seeking to rezone approximately 65 acres of land, on the northeast corner of Tyler and Belleville Roads and east of Robson. The consultants were asked to study plans submitted by Rohler.

The plans presented by Rohler proposes the construction of 310 new units plus a commercial development. In addition a section of the land sought to be rezoned will be used as a recreational site.

In another rezoning sought by James Carroll of Belleville involving property (less than one acre) located at the southwest corner of DeWitt and I-94 Expressway Service Drive, near Jeanette was approved.

Carroll requested a change from residential to commercial zoning. Louis A. Toth represented Carroll before the planning Commission.

Office of Youth Services

The state senate has unanimously approved a compromise bill creating an Office of Youth Services, the Youth Advisory Commission and the Youth Parole and Review Board within the Department of Social Services.

The bill requires approval by the house of Representatives and the signature of Gov. William G. Milliken before becoming law.

"I am delighted at the senate action and at the compromise worked out between the senate and house committees on this extremely important measure," said Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe (R-12th District), primary sponsor of the legislation.

"Michigan has long needed this type of cohesive operation to tie together agencies dealing with various facets of juvenile problems."

"IT IS not enough that we wait for young people to get into trouble with the law. We must be in a position to provide a comprehensive program that will help children before they get into deep trouble."

"I feel strongly that this measure would go a long way toward providing an enlightened youth program for Michigan."

Sen. Beebe said the compromise bill provides that the Director of the Office of Youth Services would be appointed by the Governor with senate approval.

THE YOUTH ADVISORY COMMISSION would be, as the name implies, an advisory body of five members within the Department of Social Services. The five members also would be appointed by the Governor with Senate approval and would be paid on a per diem basis. Their primary function would be to advise the Director.

Sen. Beebe said the Parole and Review Board of three members would be appointed by the Director and would operate within the Department of Social Services.

Romulus Vote Lists Now Totaled 7,362

ROMULUS--Registered voters in Romulus Township as of Oct. 30 totaled 7,362 persons who are eligible to cast ballots, Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, announced Monday.

Perry's announcement followed a recheck of the voting lists for resident transfers and cancellations of those residents who have neglected to exercise their voting franchise by neglecting to re-register.

The total compares with 7,851 voters registered in November 1968. The last registration was in October, 1968.

ROMULUS TOWNSHIP'S population based on the 1960 census is 22,000. It has risen somewhat since then, Perry stated.

The township's voting precincts have been increased from nine to 11 to make it more convenient for residents to cast ballots. And five new voting machines have been purchased.

The precincts and their present vote registrations are: Precinct One, located at Romulus Elementary School, 898.

Precinct Two, located at Harrison School, 419.

Precinct Three, located at Fire Hall No. Three, 538.

Precinct Four, located at Fire Hall No. Four, 766.

Precinct Five, located at Fire Hall No. One, 764.

Precinct Six, located at Gordonier School, 764.

Precinct Seven, located at Mt. Pleasant School, 642.

PTA Members Attend Education Workshop

ROMULUS--Three representatives from Romulus PTA's attended an Educational Reform Regional Workshop at Redford High School on Thursday Nov. 6.

Mrs. Fran Petre, Mrs. Susanne Cooke and Mrs. Beverly McAnally were among the 70 or more PTA Legislation Chairmen who heard the featured workshop Consultants. They were Dan Manthe, of the Intermediate School District; Dick Smith, from the Detroit School District; Mrs. Elizabeth Kummer and Gerald Dunn, co-chairmen for legislation for the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, speak about Governor Milliken's proposed legislation for Educational Reform.

THE PURPOSE of the meeting was to provide up-to-date information about the legislative action in Lansing. It was pointed out by the moderator, Gerald Dunn (a member of the Board of Regents for the University of Michigan) that the Governor's proposal was only one of several "packages" being proposed by a number of Legislators.

Dunn made particular reference to alternate bills being offered by the minority members of the Senate under the sponsorship of Sander Levin. He also mentioned bills being introduced by Senators: Bursley, Kuhn, Young and Buth and Representative Spencer.

Dunn said the Governor's proposal would certainly not be accepted "as is" but would be amended and altered.

HE SAID that Educational Reform was not limited to the 12 Bills introduced by the Governor, but should be a composite of the best thinking of all our legislators.

Board Action

ROMULUS--A bid of $1,799 for the purchase of a truck by Romulus Township Water Department was approved by the Township Board. The bid was submitted by Crova Sales and Service of Romulus.

In other actions, the board approved the acceptance of a bid of $126 for the Old DuMont radio system used by the township. The bid was submitted by the Newsome Electronics, 2670 Pinetree, Trenton.

An advertising for bids to blacktop the rear of the 34th District Court Building, located at 30240 Eureka Road, was also approved.

An area of approximately 1,000 square feet is involved, Alfred J. Perry township clerk, reported.

A Miracle for Donald Musser

BY JIM BRADLEY

ANP Staff Writer

"All I could think of was going through life with only one arm."

This was the reaction of a dazed former Westland resident, Donald E. Musser, immediately after he had his left arm severed at the elbow when a packing lever started in motion as he was pushing a boxspring mattress into his garbage truck. Musser had recently moved to 41730 Van Born Rd., Van Buren Township.

The alertness of three Westland Policemen is credited with saving the 35-year-old garbage collector's arm. After being called to the scene by a Westland resident who lives near Cherry Hill and Merriman, Patrolmen William McDonald, Michael Frayer and Sam Burke found Musser dazed and bleeding. They quickly applied a tourniquet to the arm and the Westland Rescue Squad arrived soon after to rush Musser to Wayne County General Hospital.

Here is where the alertness of the patrolmen paid off. With Musser speeding on his way to the hospital, the officers rummaged through the garbage in the truck, found the severed limb, and raced to Wayne County General Hospital, arriving almost at the same time as the rescue squad.

A 15-man surgical team composed of hospital and

University of Michigan surgeons worked earnestly for approximately nine hours to restore the arm. Circulation was established within three hours and doctors are very hopeful he will recover almost full use of the arm.

Because it was only the twentieth such recorded successful operation in medical history, Dr. H. J. Wells, general superintendent of Wayne County General Hospital, called it a great achievement.

Dr. Wells announced the surgical "miracle" at a news conference last Friday morning although the operation had taken place a full nine days before, on Wednesday, Oct. 29.

The severed limb was kept chilled in a physiological solution to keep it viable until it was reattached. "The amount of function is the question right now," Dr. Wells said. "We're not sure at this time how much use of the arm he will have."

"The nerve arteries were not reattached at this time, because experience indicates waiting until a later time is best," Wells added. The superintendent said nerves regenerate very slowly and progressively and it was better to wait and operate later to restore the nerve arteries.

Meanwhile, as he lays in bed, Musser says: "I feel great. I was quite surprised to awaken from the operation and find my left arm in place. The only thing I could think of as I stood behind my truck after having it severed was that I would have to go through life with only one arm."

Musser said death never entered his mind and that he was conscious from the moment of the accident until the operation began. "My wife, Betty, and my sister and brother-in-law were not able to get to the hospital before I went into the operating room. I imagine they were plenty worried and I know it was a long day for them," Musser said.

"I have a numb feeling in my upper arm and no feeling at all in the lower part. I have a pain shot each night to help," the well-known Musser said. He's quite well known after all the major televisions interviewed him and he appeared on the front page of quite a few major daily newspapers.

Wayne County General Hospital was a beehive of activity last Friday morning with newspaper reporters and television men buzzing around to get the story of the "miracle" restoration of Musser's arm. Musser, a quiet, soft-spoken type of individual, said he didn't mind all the attention, that he was just thankful the arm had been replaced.

"I want to thank everyone who had a part in helping me," he said gratefully.

And so this grateful man will have the use of his left arm thanks to the quick-thinking of three Westland policemen and the co-operation of a team of surgeons from Wayne County General Hospital and the University of Michigan.

Doctors put the accomplishment in the category of a "miracle."

State Democrats to Accept Donations Per Credit Card

DETROIT—Michigan Democrats can now charge their political contributions on their Master Charge Bank Card.

The Democratic State Central Committee, at Lansing, has adopted Master Charge under an agreement with Detroit's Bank of the Commonwealth.

"We are glad to provide Democrats the opportunity to charge gifts to their party," said George W. Miller, Bank of the Commonwealth president.

"Political fund raising is a major problem of all parties in a democratic system and we feel this service will prove increasingly valuable as we move toward a cashless society," Miller said.

JAMES M. MC NEELY, Democratic state chairman, said in Lansing that, "Fund raising has historically plagued the Democratic party in this state and throughout the nation. We hope the budgeting opportunities made possible by contributing now and paying later over an extended period will encourage more citizens to support a strong party organization capable of responding to their needs.

"Conscientious Americans believe that support of one political party is part of our way of life," said McNeely. "If we make it easiest to contribute to the Democratic party in Michigan, it may attract younger members and win over Republicans from Democratically-predominant low and middle income brackets."

Master Charge is a bank card currently accepted by 24 Michigan banks and nationally by more than 4,000 banks in 49 states. The 20-million cards already in distribution are accepted by half-a-million retail outlets, and allow families to charge practically every product and service they may need, paying only one itemized monthly bill.

UNDER THE new agreement, holders of Master Charge cards from any bank throughout the state will be given the opportunity to make a contribution by indicating their charge card number on reply cards to be included in Democratic mailings soliciting funds.

In processing these contributions, the Democratic State Central Committee will play the role of a merchant accepting a Master Charge purchase, and the contributor will be billed on his monthly Master Charge statement.

Democratic Meeting Set

ROMULUS—The Romulus Democratic Club will hold a meeting on Nov. 20 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, located on Huron River Drive. The meeting starts at 8 p.m., Alfred J. Perry, club president, announced.

An executive board session will be held at 7 p.m., an hour before the regular scheduled meeting.

A turkey and Refreshment Raffle will be held followed by refreshments.

Starts Training

BELLEVILLE—Army Private William H. Coleman is assigned to Company C, 13th Battalion, Fourth Brigade, in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA), Fort Knox, Ky.

Following the completion of Basic Training, Pvt. Coleman who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Coleman of 49583 Willis Road, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Are You A Diabetic? Free Blood Tests Now Available

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be available here during the week of Nov. 17-22 as part of the search for the more than 100,000 "hidden" diabetics in Michigan.

Sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association, (MDA), a United Fund service, Diabetes Week is sponsored nationally by the American Diabetes Association of which MDA is an affiliate.

Co-sponsors in Michigan are 35 Michigan hospitals, local county medical societies, and the Michigan Department of Public Health.

PERSONS PLANNING to be tested are advised to have a meal rich in sugars and starches two hours before testing, to ensure the most accurate result.

A "hidden" diabetic is a person who has the condition but is unaware of it, explained Dr. Fred W. Whitehouse, president of the Michigan Diabetes Association.

"The presence of diabetes may be indicated by excessive thirst, excessive urination, loss of weight, itching, constant hunger, easy tiring, slow healing of cuts and scratches, and changes in vision," Dr. Whitehouse said. "However, a person may have the disorder and not know it."

Anyone, even children, may develop diabetes, Dr. Whitehouse noted. But adults over 45 are leading candidates - especially when they are overweight. Those who have a history of diabetes in the family are even more likely to develop the condition.

WOMEN ARE more prone than men to become diabetic, Dr. Whitehouse emphasized, and for that reason should be particularly alert for common symptoms of diabetes.

Though there is as yet no known cure for diabetes, today's treatment methods can keep it under control, Dr. Whitehouse said. In most cases the patient can continue to lead a productive and active life. He can work at his job, marry, and raise a family. But all that depends on early detection and treatment. The longer diabetes goes undetected and untreated, the more serious a problem it becomes. Why wait?

UNTREATED DIABETES can lead to serious health

'Moratorium Day' Suggested by Hare

Secretary of State James M. Hare has suggested a possible "moratorium" against what he described as "our biggest war...the war against needless traffic deaths and injuries."

Speaking at the 7th annual conference of Michigan Women's Organizations at Michigan State University, Hare encouraged the women to spearhead such a "moratorium" which would "focus attention on traffic accidents which claim more American lives each year than the war in Vietnam has since it began."

HARE ALSO urged the women's groups to get behind a concerted effort to push safety programs at all levels of government.

"It's pretty obvious that we men haven't done the job," Hare asserted. "Perhaps the ladies' groups can carry the ball."

Hare said that the entire national safety movement is characterized by "lethargy." "The federal government seems to have lost some of the initiative it once had in the safety area. States... Michigan included...after some strong efforts in the areas of programming and legislation, seem to be wavering in the face of other seemingly more pressing problems in education, civil rights, water and air pollution."

Winning MYI Essays Presented

(Editor's Note: The following essays were written by two Belleville residents, graduates of Belleville High School and currently attending nearby colleges. They were judged first place winners in the Essay Contest for the 1968 and 1969 Musical Youth International Band and Choir. Both will be presented with the Dwight D. Eisenhower Award authorized by the Eisenhower family, in ceremonies in Saline, Mich., on Nov. 15, by Senator Gilbert E. Bursley of Ann Arbor.)

FIRST PRIZE in the essay contest for the 50 boys and 50 girls in the 1968 Musical Youth International band and choir was awarded to Miss Pam Cobb of Belleville. It follows:

MUSICAL YOUTH INTERNATIONAL

by William R. Villa
Musical Youth International has given more than any high school or college can ever offer.

MYI has made me realize how important it is to make life long friends; to be able to correspond with my Japanese families and to share our thoughts with one another no matter how sad or happy they may be.

On an MYI tour you learn how to put up with the many different strains of a tour group: concerts, meeting new people, traveling long hours, different foods, and different customs. Musical Youth International has taught me how to work with other teenagers, to get along with other races, religious, attitudes and their ideas.

WE HAD quite a few discussions aboard the buses about religion and any thing else that might just come up. Sometimes these conversations would last for hours. Even more stimulating to me were the attempts to communicate with my Japanese host families. There was more than one instance when we would sit down and look up single words and try to build sentences. It was slow, but it was great.

One instance I'll always remember was in a huge Kobe shopping center. A Japanese man came up to me and started talking. I didn't know what he wanted or tried to get across, but I made him understand that we were: Americans, teenagers, visiting, and that we like Japan. You could see on his face how hard he worked to say something in English, but when he realized we didn't understand he got embarrassed, said thank you and walked away.

He wanted so badly to talk to me, but he just couldn't. I felt really bad because I could see how hard he was trying. There are a lot of instances like this occurring on an MYI tour, many of which you may never hear about, but the kids will never forget. We could communicate through smiles and music.

My first meeting with a foreigner was the only time I ever had any real trouble. I was scared and afraid of what to say, but you soon realize everyone has the same problems. We share the same difficulties, the same happiness, the same strains, and we learn to share everything among ourselves.

TRAVELING IN foreign countries creates some problems, but the kinds of problems you look back on and wish you had more such petty problems now. Transportation, food or weather might be a problem, but if you would ask any MYI alumni if they would do it all over again the answer would be "Yes".

I would do anything to travel to a different country every year and meet a hundred great teenagers and a host of new families. It would be impossible to find organizations other than People-to-People and Musical Youth International that carry friendship and music to the hearts of the people to the extent that the families cried so hard when we left.

My experiences with MYI have done more for me than I could ever dream of doing for MYI. I'm just proud of being able to say that I traveled with Musical Youth International.

MUSICAL YOUTH INTERNATIONAL IN MEXICO

By Pam Cobb

I have found the universal language. It is spoken in every tongue and can be used in any country in the world. It can say hello, and how are you, and even though I'm a stranger in your country I love being in it and I'd like to learn more about it and the people who live in it. The language I speak of has a limited alphabet but a broad vocabulary, and that language is a smile.

Sometimes it was hard to keep smiling during the trying times. The frustrating heat, the eternal bus riding, the scores of insects. But it was an experience that can not be equaled to any I have had in my life time.

I find my greatest source of knowledge, and my most a v i d interest is in people, especially people in foreign countries. However, previously I was not fortunate enough to be able to travel, until in 1968 with MYI.

WHAT MORE appropriate name than People-to-People can be given to an organization where people from one country can go and live in the homes of people in a different country and exchange views, ideas and friendships.

What more appropriate name than Musical Youth International can be given to a group in that organization, when young people express through music a spirit of international goodwill that often can not be expressed in words!

I met so many beautiful people and learned so many wonderful things. And it wasn't just meeting Mexican people -- but getting to know the 100 high school students you were traveling with, learning about their homes, right in your own country was a unique experience in itself.

MYI has taught me many things; not only about music, but about people. It has taught me expression not only of myself, but an understanding of the expression of other people, and more than anything else in the world, this is the knowledge I seek.

Individuals seeking renewal of the driving permits are now required to pay a $4.50 license fee. These licenses are good for three years.

Chauffeur licenses cost $4 and are only good for one year.

Cadettes Start Active Year

BELLEVILLE--Cadette Girls from Troop 419 sponsored by Quirk School started an active year by participating in a shakedown hike conducted by the Hiker Club of Huron Valley Girl Scouts.

Headed by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor of Flat Rock, the Belleville troop was invited to experience the proper method of hiking, backpacking and a chance to meet with other scouts from the area.

The eight-mile hike was conducted through a portion of Oak Openings, a part of the Toledo Metropolitan Park system, located south of Maumee, Ohio.

Attending were Carol Brock, Vicki Ask, Mary Sole, Tona Butler, Carla Pierce, Gayle Simons, Jackie Bauer and Susan Mosey. Troop leader Mrs. Kathy Morris and her assistant Mrs. LaDonna Bauer plus Mrs. Simons and Mrs. Sole accompanied the girls.

SOMERSET, K.Y., COMMONWEALTH JOURNAL: "The oil industry marshals its own figures to show that it pays its fair share of taxes and that both depletion and import controls have helped maintain a strong domestic industry, which is as vital to the nation's security as a strong military establishment."

COUNTY SEEKS STATE FUNDS

New Cooperative Extension Service Facility is Planned

Wayne County plans to bid for $1,220,000 in State recreation bond money to help finance extensive improvements to the County park system and new recreational facilities.

Nine projects worth a total of $1,525,000 were given preliminary approval by the County Board of Supervisors, meeting Nov. 6, as the basis for the bid for State funds.

Under the $100 million State recreation bond program, the State will finance 80 percent of a project. A maximum total of $10.2 million is available within Wayne County, including Detroit. Individual communities are also seeking State funds.

The Board of Supervisors acted on priority recommendations made by its planning and capital improvement committee, headed by John Lesinski, of Dearborn, D-District 20.

TOP PRIORITY was assigned to development of a recreational and educational facility proposed by the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service at a total cost of $500,000.

The 26-acre facility would consist of an office and conference building, a 10-acre model farm, and extensive trial grounds for the growing of lawns, trees, shrubs, flowers and commercial vegetables and fruits.

County Extension Director Donald D. Juchartz of Belleville predicted that well over 500,000 persons would visit the facility annually, including some 150,000 children in organized school groups.

Middlebelt, as above, $85,000.

*Construction of one fishing pier and a dock area for paddle boats at Wilcox Lake, $22,000.

*Construction of two fishing piers at Phoenix Lake, $13,000.

*Development of 22 acres of Lower Rouge Parkway just west of Venoy Road, with landscaping, comfort stations, sports facilities and picnic equipment, $255,000.

THE PARK PACKAGE will be up for final approval at the evening meeting of the Board of Supervisors on Thursday, Nov. 20.

In addition to Lesinski, members of the supervisors' planning and capital improvement committee are: Edmund Bizak, of Romulus, D-Dist. 24, vice chairman; James DeSana, of Wyandotte, D-Dist. 23; Rudy Hickey, of Ecorse, D-Dist. 18; Jerome A. Szymanski, of Detroit, D-Dist. 6; Frederick Yates, of Detroit, D-Dist. 9; and William R. Bryant, Jr., of Grosse Pointe Farms, R-Dist. 3.

Area Church Plans Bible Week Program

BELLEVILLE—"The Bible has the answer for the cynicism of our day and age," J. Charles Dibley, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, said today in announcing plans for the observance of Bible Sunday on Nov. 23, launching National Bible Week through Thanksgiving Week and Worldwide Bible Reading Thanksgiving to Christmas.

Referring to a conversation Jesus Christ had with His disciples, Rev. Dibley quoted John 8:31, "if you obey my teaching you are really my disciples; you will know the truth, and the truth will make you free."

MANY ARE returning to the habit of daily Bible reading today, he said. This is especially true among the members of the Armed Forces.

The American Bible Society reports an even greater demand for Scriptures from U.S. military chaplains in 1969 than last year when more than two million copies were distributed to servicemen.

The United Methodist Church of Belleville will join in the observance of National Bible Week and Worldwide Bible Reading, he added. The theme for this year is "Truth for Modern Man."

People who do not have a Bible or New Testament may purchase an inexpensive copy at the church on Bible Sunday. Worship services are scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

Boost in Medicare Hospital Rate to Begin on January 1

Older people who enter the hospital under Medicare next Jan. 1, or later will be responsible for an additional $8 of their hospital bills, a mandatory increase required by law.

The increase results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of hospital costs under Medicare, and an adjustment of the portion of the hospital bill for which a Medicare beneficiary is responsible if those costs have risen substantially.

Medicare now pays all but the first $44 of a Medicare beneficiary's hospital bill in each spell of illness.

IN ANNOUNCING the increase in the deductible amount from $44 to $52, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, noted that the hospital bill for an average stay by a Medicare beneficiary now runs about $700.

"The increase of $8 that a Medicare beneficiary will pay in his hospital effective in January," Ball said, "is a result of the long term trend toward increasing hospital costs and also, of course, results in part from the general inflation that has been taking place." "The Administration," he said, "is committed not only to bringing the general inflation under control but to working with the health community, insurance carriers and others so that the consumer will get more for the health care dollar."

The hospital deductible amount, Ball explained, is intended to make the Medicare beneficiary responsible for expenses equivalent to the average cost of one day of hospital care. It is similar to the deductible amounts provided in many auto insurance policies where the car owner pays the first $50 or $100 of a repair bill, and the insurance company pays the rest.

 WHEN A Medicare beneficiary has a hospital stay of more than 60 days he will pay $13 a day for the 61st through the 90th day, up from the present $11 per day. If he has post-hospital stay of over 20 days in an extended care facility, he will pay $6.50 per day toward the cost of the 21st day through the 100th day, up from the present $5.50 per day.

If he needs to draw on his "lifetime reserve," the reserve account a beneficiary can draw upon if he ever needs more than 90 days of hospital care in the same benefit period, he will now pay $26 for each day used, instead of the present $22 per day. For Medicare beneficiaries who enter a hospital before the end of this year, the hospital deductible amount will be $44 rather than $52, Ball pointed out. Also, the dollar amounts they will pay toward the cost of a hospital stay of more than 60 days or for post-hospital extended care more than 20 days will be payable at the present rate even though the services may be provided in 1970 rather than in 1969.

Marine Surprises Family

ROMULUS--Romulus Township businessman, Colin McPhee (Windiate's Hardware), was surprised and delighted to welcome Lance Corporal Richard J. McPhee, from a year's duty in the Marine Corps.

While the McPhee family had expected Richard to come home sometime this fall, they were unaware of the exact date of his arrival.

He surprised them by walking into his home on the evening of Nov. 1.

Wounded twice, Richard had been stationed in the Demilitarized Zone of Vietnam and had participated in 20 military operations.

He was awarded the Purple Heart, Expert Rifleman medal, and Combat Action medals.

So far, Richard has made, no plans for the future beyond seeing his friends and relatives and getting some much needed rest.

Scout Pack Aids Nursery

ROMULUS--Den Two of Cub Scout Pack 830, under the leadership of Den Mother, Donnalee Zavitz, have been energetically working these past few weeks on a project for the Romulus Township YWCA Pre-School Nursery.

The boys: Scott McKay, Ricky Zavitz, Randy Ortolan, Michael Buggy and David Meyer, working with Den Chief, Steve Buck, have cut wood scraps and two-by-fours into various shapes and have hand sanded them into interesting building blocks.

They have also made rhythm blocks (sand paper covered hand blocks) and are now cutting dowels for rhythm sticks, also to be donated to the nursery.

Mrs. Zavitz, reported that part of the supplies were donated and part were purchased from the treasury.

The nursery children were pleased to receive the play blocks and to begin their rhythm band.

"ALL MINE" - A Belleville griddier shows his greed for the pigskin in Friday's night game at John Glenn. Will Rocket George Ross (50) convince the Tiger to let loose the ball?

TIGERS CLAW GLENN, 20-6

Belleville Bows Out Winner

BY JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

Belleville's smothering defensive unit held John Glenn to only 11 plays in the second half enabling the Tigers to snap a 6-6 halftime knot and go on to a satisfying 20-6 victory Friday night.

The win gave Belleville a 4-5 season record, one game better than their 3-6 mark a year ago. Coach Jim Richendollar expressed great satisfaction over the triumph and had praise for his entire team.

"We played hard all the way and our offensive squad deserves much credit, but I believe we should especially single out our defensive unit for their great job in smothering John Glenn's attack," the smiling Richendollar said after the win.

Belleville rushed for 199 yards and passed for 30 more, while the home squad ran for 111 and only 8 through the air.

The deepest Glenn penetration in the second half was to the 31 yard line when Darrell Demoray took a kick off to that location on a beautiful run with only 35 seconds left in the game.

Before that, the Belleville defense stopped every Glenn threat.

The Tiger wall held Glenn deep in its own end of the field and this set up the first score of the game. Forced to kick from their endzone, the Rockets punted to their own 31. Mike Fant dove over from the two after his ten-yard left end sweep had taken the ball to the 14 earlier. Quarterback Dick Wenzel's pass to all-Suburban League halfback Fant was no good on the conversion try and Belleville led, 6-0.

Glenn's Greg Hubbard

exploded 66 yards just before the half ended to tie the score. The shifty tailback scooted through right tackle and outraced the secondary for the tying score. Defensive end Larry Merritt, who played an outstanding game, blocked the extra point try.

Belleville took the second half kick off and marched 66 yards in 13 plays for the go-ahead touchdown. Garrard Pettus rumbled the final two yards for the score after a pair of ten-yard runs by Fant had set up the TD. Again the pass after touchdown failed and Belleville led, 12-6.

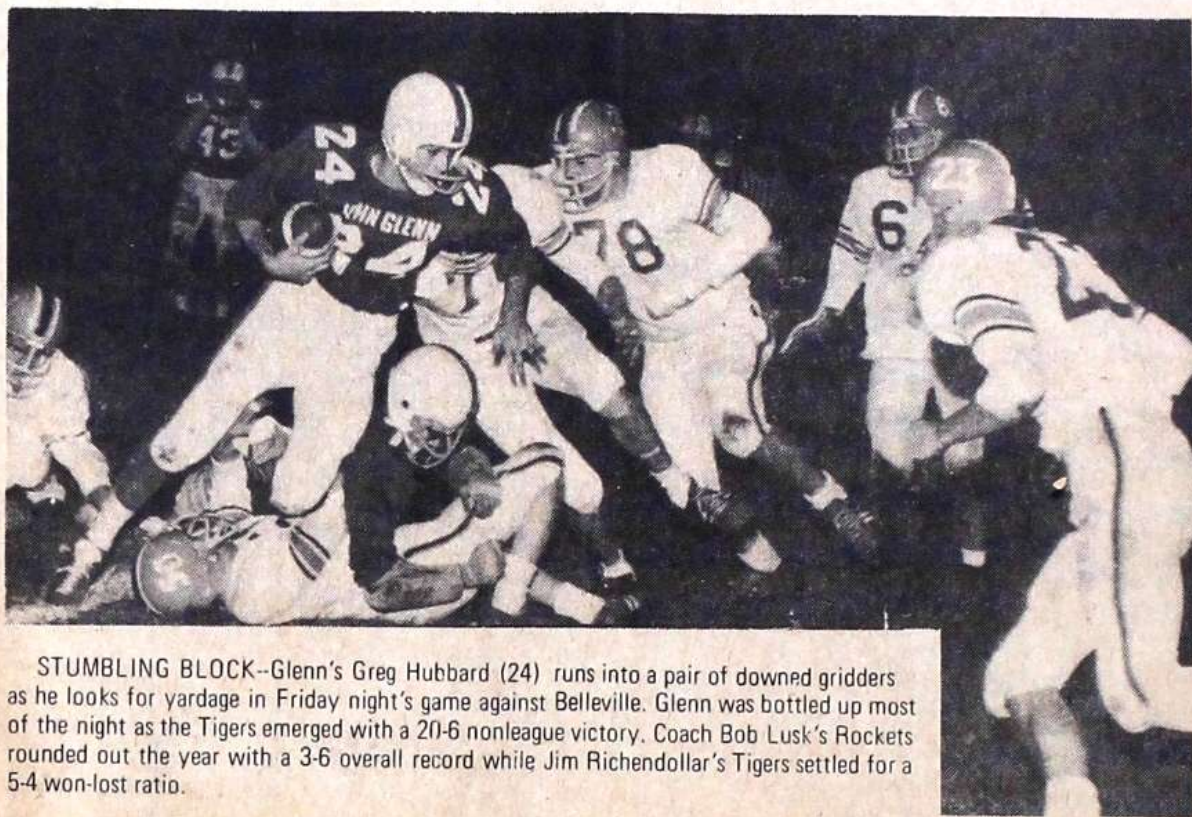

Belleville's defensive unit took over here and dominated the game. But Glenn was holding well also as the play saw-sawed up and down the field. The Tigers settled the issue when they traveled 58 yards in 11 plays just before the game ended. Key play in the drive was Pettus' first down gallop on a 4th and five situation. Pettus repeated his earlier two-yard dive for the score.

Rick Mussehl was moved from his line position to halfback and responded by bursting over on the conversion run to give the Tigers their eventual 20-6 victory.

Fant, who was named to the Suburban Six All-League team this past week, gained a total of 117 yards running and on pass receptions to lead the Tiger attack.

The victory gave Belleville a 4-5 mark, one game better than last year. "Allen Park was our most satisfying game," Richendollar said after the game, alluding to the 14-12 league win over the Parkers. "The seniors played well, I thought, and the entire team played with desire," he said of Friday night's contest.

STUMBLING BLOCK—Glenn's Greg Hubbard (24) runs into a pair of downed gridders as he looks for yardage in Friday night's game against Belleville. Glenn was bottled up most of the night as the Tigers emerged with a 20-6 nonleague victory. Coach Bob Lusk's Rockets rounded out the year with a 3-6 overall record while Jim Richendollar's Tigers settled for a 5-4 won-lost ratio.

RECORD TD RUN FOR WORDEN

Romulus Rips Robichaud

Sparked by defensive back Bill Worden's 104-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass, the Romulus Eagles posted their first win of the season Friday as they romped over a scrappy Robichaud squad, 34-18, before a sparse home crowd.

The electrifying endzone-to-endzone thievery came at a very opportune moment. Robichaud, trailing, 27-12, had driven to a first down on Romulus' 12 yard line and was threatening to close the gap to just seven points.

Robichaud quarterback Harrell Watts, who played a tremendous game both ways, being in on a vast majority of his team's tackles, faded to pass. The receiver was wide open in the endzone, but the errant aerial was speared one-handed by Worden four yards deep in the endzone. The stocky defensive back set sail for the opposing goal line down the left sidelines and didn't stop until he had gone all the way to clinch the game with seven minutes left in the contest.

"I'm ready for the season to start now," an exuberant George Pratt said after the game. The Eagle mentor, finishing with the same record as last year—1 win, 7 losses and 1 tie, thoroughly enjoyed a Friday night supper for the first time since the season began two months ago.

The elated Eagles ground out 146 yards on the turf, powered mainly by fullback Dave Brown's 63 yards in 14 carries and Rance Thomas' 41 in 9 attempts.

Crippled Huron Loses Finale

Huron Conference
Team	W	L	T
Monroe CC	8	0	0
Tecumseh	6	1	0
Flat Rock	5	3	0
Grosse Ile	3	4	1
Carlson	2	3	1
Huron	2	5	1
Airport	2	5	0
Monroe Jeff.	2	5	0
Blissfield	1	5	1

It started on a happy and high note for Huron but when "conductor" Glenn Dregansky left the symphony, the Chiefs lost their harmony and the curtains came down on them and Coach Lee Smeltzer on a sad and low note.

Dregansky and Tom Umin combined their running talents to force Flat Rock to retreat after the opening kickoff. And in their first series of plays, Huron marched 62-yards to score only to waste that touchdown in a 23-6 loss Friday night.

Dregansky plowed over from three yards out to account for the Chiefs' first and only touchdown of the game. Those six-points were the last of the 1969 season for the New Boston gridders.

It was a disappointing way to round out his first year as head coach.

Smeltzer guided the Chiefs to a 2-5-1 league record which enabled the perennial underdogs to climb up the standings to sixth place. It was their best finish, moreover, in recent years.

A victory against Flat Rock could have turned the dismal year into somewhat of a pleasant surprise. Flat Rock finished third.

For the second time in as many years of the league's existence, Monroe Catholic Central captured the championship. Monroe emerged with an untarnished 8-0 mark.

Huron showed signs of collapsing in the second quarter when Dregansky suffered a sprained ankle and was removed from the game. Already licking wounds of previous games, the crippled Chiefs tried to make the best of it.

Quarterback Butch Sumenick, a key figure in Huron's success, saw only limited duty because of a head injury. Also out was Glenn's brother—Therel who was on the injury list.

Flat Rock knotted up the score on a 30-yard pass play with Dave Topalweski on the receiving end of Bob Brodie's toss. They failed to score the conversion and the two teams retired to a 6-6 halftime tie.

The real "back-breaker" came in the third period when, after Huron sweated its way from their own 25 to the Flat Rock 12, the Chiefs couldn't find the right play for the rest of the real estate.

Flat Rock, however, solved the problem when Larry Jessop swept around left end on the second play from scrimmage and raced 70-yards into the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown.

Jessop added the insurance

TD in the final quarter when he plunged two-yards for his second tally of the game.

Though Huron had a respectable 156 yards on the ground, it was their utter failure to utilize the air routes which kept them struggling. The Chiefs picked up five yards from their aerial assault.

Umin rushed for 59 of those 156 yards.

Summing up his team's performance for the season, Coach Smeltzer said he felt it

The Right of Opinion

Once upon a time when Vesuvius was mocked it blew its top and Pompeii perished.

Though this column in the past has dealt little in mythology—Greek or Roman—last week's letter signed by officials Jerry Mulcrone and Pat O'Neill made us dust off the ancient books of law and myth looking for reason.

We emerged bleeding moderation.

In the letter, O'Neill and Mulcrone, apparently on the behalf of their colleagues, censured Inkster High School football head coach Sylvester Mosley for "...publicly refuting authority in athletic contests. . . jeopardizing the most important lesson he was hired to teach, namely, good sportsmanship to young men and women."

In plain English, they wanted it to be known that they have had it with Coach Mosley.

That's their prerogative.

And, of course, a week earlier, Coach Mosley, in plain English let it be known, via the Sports Meridian, that he has had it with some officials.

That's his prerogative, I guess.

Where, then, does the babel tower stand?

Well, the controversy stems from Mosley's statements about the poor caliber of officiating he and his team received from a foursome of officials at Taylor Center.

The officials retaliated, because of all of the detrimental publicity, by refusing to officiate, the Inkster-Romulus football game. They also wrote letters to those involved.

Part of the letter is lingering above, the full text is published in last week's paper (Nov. 5).

Authority

It is, of course, a ref's prerogative to decline to officiate. Even in this case where the refs had already signed their contracts, the school felt it should not carry the issue farther and dropped it.

Why, then, should the Sports Meridian ask for an autopsy?

There is, in our opinion, embedded in the body more important issues than conflict of personalities and censure of coaches or refusal to referee.

The issues! The right for one to express his opinion, the right to express himself to the press without the fear of retaliation, are at stake.

We are not certain whether the officials or Coach Mosley possess "YY" in their chromosomes and, even if either did carry the mark of "superhuman," experience shows all are susceptible to error.

None is above criticism.

And all do not have the right to express opinions. But, surely, Coach Mosley, after so many seasons of coaching, had earned the right to voice his opinion on the brand of officiating he received or did not receive without the fear of censure.

Moreover, if Coach Mosley didn't know what he was talking about, officials should have brushed his statements aside. They, however, chose not to.

Someone had some strong guilt feelings about the incident at Taylor.

Subsequently, officials also have a right to their opinions. Their opinions, however, have far reaching consequences—on the outcome of the game, on the conduct of the players, on the conduct of the coaches, on the conduct of the fans.

Though a coach may slip through a game, a season without knowing the rules, an official would scarcely venture to do his thing on a field without a solid knowledge of the game and its rules.

Fortunately, therefore, officials are better prepared to meet controversy than are coaches. They are "lawmen" and they back their decisions by the laws set down in the good book.

These rules are clearly established and, only in a Met Year, will you see an official looking to shoe polish to pull out a decision. No one can deny that there would be no name of the game without authority.

Authority must be respected if a goal is to be reached.

Ironically, when an official doesn't use or abuse his delegated authority, he is not a ruler of his domain, but turns into an instrument of injustice. There are many incidents where officials mistakes not only led to mayhem but to riot and death.

Having the power to squelch his protagonist, the official therefore, is a much more important figure on the chess board of competition.

Only when he loses his facilities is the official cut down in size and equated with the rest of the figures in the play and the easiest way to do this is if the official is all ears and eyes for the coach and the game.

If things got out of hand at Taylor Center whom should the blame be placed upon? It is logical to conclude that ineptness by officials caused any problems.

To reiterate, Coach Mosley and coaches have a right to be heard. And a right to their opinions on the quality of officiating.

And officials have a right to their opinion about the quality of coaching and coaches.

Unfortunately, we all don't enjoy that right to criticize either group. In fact, in many cases, we don't even have a right to our own opinion.

Let me explain: A few weeks ago a German doctor presented a paper to his colleagues on the causes of heartattacks. From his research, the doc discovered that smoking and obesity were not the major causes of fatal heartattacks, which we previously were led to believe. The doc's opinion, based on a year's research, concluded that tension sustained over an undetermined amount of years is the leading factor to crippling heart disease and fatal heartattacks.

Some of his colleagues, immediately disagreed. They viewed the doc's research as unorthodox as Luther's dictum.

Others agreed.

All, being doctors, had a right to voice their opinions on the subject. They had earned that right by their appropriate schooling and experience.

But, what if the Sports Meridian, whose knowledge of medicine is equivalent to the width of the eye of a needle, slipped by the guards, strolled on the stage, grabbed the microphone and shouted: "Gentlemen, the doc doesn't know what he's talking about. Heartattacks are caused by Communists."

When the members of the convention, moreover, try to shout the Sports Meridian down, he quickly argues, "but I have a right to my opinion, don't I?"

No, dear reader, the Sports Meridian doesn't have a right to his opinion in this case. His right had been forfeited by his utter ignorance.

And, such is the case of many controversies where the ignorant demand to be heard because, "they have a right to express their opinion."

The right of opinion is one earned not an inalienable one.

When opinions, qualified ones, that is, warm in the caldron of controversy and reach a boiling point, tempers should be cooled by those who are qualified. In this case, the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

However, the officials quickly set up a kangaroo court, charged Coach Mosley "with arrogant anti-official attitude" and sentenced him to an undisclosed sanatorium where he will be brainwashed and reconditioned into an official for the rest of his natural life.

How horrible.

The officials didn't stop at that, either. They meted out punishment to the innocent also. They served notice that: "On October 31, 1969 we are scheduled to officiate the Romulus-Inkster game at Inkster. The attitude of Mr. Mosley leaves us no alternative but to refuse to honor that commitment."

With that terse statement, the officials thus state that Mosley's action are the fault of the school; the faculty, the students, the players and fans as well.

How frustrated these poor souls must be.

But, whatever their frustrations we can not let them take their wrath upon these innocent people for, if they, the officials are not stopped now, we'll have more problems than that of someone refusing to ref a ball game.

In declaring that they would withhold their services from Inkster, these humans have placed themselves on pedestals and like gods will not tolerate criticism.

They mock Vesuvius.

HARD MAN TO STOP - As Rockets Jim Chatham and George Osterhout (31) close in, Belleville hard-running back Garrade Pettus (32) steps on the gas. Pettus provided the key that broke Belleville's losing streak, picking up key yardage for the Tigers in a 20-6 victory in Friday's curtain-drawer.

Hey, Charlie Buck, Want Winners? ANP's All-Area

No wonder Charlie Buck couldn't pick any winners—they're all here. Or soon will be. Three coaches—St. Mary's of Wayne veteran mentor Manny Lentine; Livonia Franklin's George Lovich and Garden City East's Gary Humphrey all produced winners this year on the high school gridiron.

And these three are the ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS' leading candidates for "Coach of the Year" honors.

Who'll get the nod? Well, that's what ANP Sports Editor Tom Mooradian and the rest of the coaches in the area will be discussing these next couple of days.

And, who'll get the nod as the best defensive and offensive gridders the schools have produced? That's another problem that only time will resolve.

But you can bet that these players are sure winners on the gridiron, in the school and at home!

Not to be forgotten: Also at the drawing boards are members of the ANP's All-Area Cross Country panel who will come up with the top selections and a Coach of the Year in that sport.

You're welcomed to meet them all in NEXT WEEK'S edition of the paper.

STARGAZING
The constellation of Orion, or the Giant Hunter, dominates the November night skies, says University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

Rising around 9 p.m., the Hunter strides across the southern sky, Prof. Losh says. "No other star-picture contains as many bright stars, and all winter long, on gazing upward, one feels the might and presence of this great figure."

The Hunter is easily recognized by the three stars, about equal in brightness and arranged like steps, which make up his belt. The Arabs called the belt stars "the string of pearls;" to Eskimos they were three steps cut in a snow bank; and Greenlanders imagined them as seal hunters lost at sea and placed in the sky.

Two of the 12 brightest stars in the whole heavens are in Orion, according to Prof. Losh; the reddish Betelgeuse (representing Orion's right shoulder) and Rigel at the lower right hand corner that marks the Hunter's left foot.

Jack Jones Headlines Auto Show

Detroit's 54th Auto Show hits a new high in entertainment with popular singing star Jack Jones headlining a Las Vegas Revue for four days during the biggest and best new car showing ever held in the Motor City. All this, and more, for the price of an Auto Show ticket!

Sharing the spotlight with Jack Jones is the internationally known dance team, the Leonard Brothers, comedian-singer Paul Lennon, another Vegas regular, Detroit's own singing Primo's, a comely chorus line and Bob DuRant's orchestra.

The Jones extravaganza appears on stage in the Cobo Hall Arena at 3:30 and 8:00 P.M. on Monday, November 17, and at 2:30 and 8:00 P.M. on Wednesday and Thursday, November 19 and 20. On Tuesday, November 18, Jones and the Revue appear matinee only in Hall D.

Son of Allan Jones, singing idol of Broadway and Hollywood in the '30's and '40's, the Jones boy is very busy guesting on almost every major variety show. In addition to contracts with a Las Vegas hotel and a major recording company, he has found time to appear in summer stock and play dramatic roles in several TV series episodes.

Comedian-singer Paul Lennon is not new to the Motor City, having entertained many Detroit audiences including those attending last year's Auto Show. Lennon is a regular in the smart clubs in Vegas, Miami and New York, as well as a television guest star.

As internationally famous dancers, the Leonard Brothers share credits with the "who's who" of show biz. Recently they've worked with such greats as Bob Hope, Milton Berle and Ed Sullivan.

The Primo's need no introduction to Detroit...it's their hometown! Each member of this young family singing group, including seven-year-old Angelo, has appeared professionally in Broadway musical comedies and even the Metropolitan Opera!

And that's just part of the Auto Show entertainment picture! Opening week-end a Roaring 20's Revue, called the "Speakeasy Caper," will rock Hall D at 2:30 and 8:00 P.M. on November 15 and 16. This fast-paced show features comedy, singing, dancing and a bevy of beautiful girls.

Outstanding entertainment continues for the last three days of the show with the Primo's held over from the Las Vegas Revue. They'll be joined by another musical-aggregation—the Ter-Cels—who make things jump at 2:30 and 8:00 P.M. in Hall D on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 21 through the 23rd.

For basketball fans there's a bonus, too! Those attending Piston home games with the Los Angeles Lakers on Tuesday night, November 18, and the Atlanta Hawks on Friday night, November 21, receive free admission to the Auto Show on a combination ticket.

And there are many other treats in store for the visitor to the Detroit Auto Show. A number of exhibits feature personal appearances of sports stars, famous race car drivers, beauty queens and entertainment celebrities. On Saturday and Sunday, November 15 and 16, for example, you can meet Detroit's number 1 beauty, Miss America, in person!

Australia On Y Itinerary

WESTLAND—The Wayne YMCA branch will bring "Windjammer to Australia," to its travelogue series at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, November 22, at Wayne Memorial High School, Glenwood at Fourth, Wayne.

The series feature, which costs $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students, will be presented by Art Erickson, who will take the audience island-hopping across the Pacific aboard the famous brigantine "Yankee," one of the last of a vanishing breed of proud sailing ships.

Along the way, Erickson's films will feature the Galapagos Island, Pitcairn Island where the Mutiny on the Bounty occurred, the Society Islands, the Cook Island, the Tokelau and Solomon Islands and others.

A 14,000 mile trip into the interior of the Australian aboriginal country is also on film. Additional information about the series can be obtained by calling the YMCA office at 721-7044 or the Chamber of Commerce at 728-4030.

Supervisors Hold Public Meet

DETROIT—The Wayne County Board of Supervisors will hold the third in a series of monthly evening meetings designed to test public interest at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20 in the City-County Building Auditorium.

The meeting will be a regular formal session of the county legislative body.

In the past, all board meetings have been held in the afternoon.

The rules committee of the new, directly-elected county board suggested four evening meetings on an experimental basis to give citizens, most of whom work during the day, and opportunity to attend.

After the fourth meeting, set for Dec. 18, the committee will evaluate the experiment and recommend whether to continue evening meetings.

Tearful 'La Strada' Barely Moves You

HOWARD ALLEN
ANP Amusement Critic

Federico Fellini's "La Strada" tore your heart out and perhaps the biggest fault of the Lionel Bart-Charles K. Peck musical trying out at the Fisher is that it barely moves you. The Fisher has such a big stage, with lots of fly room, wings and everything else; you really ought to put something on it.

Bernadette Peters appears as the waif who's bartered to an insensitive strong man, touring the country with a motorcycle-cart to earn what little money could be earned in post-war Italy, breaking a chain with brute strength. Gelsomina is to play the drum for Zampano, the strong man played stoically by Vincent Beck, but she can't even do this adequately and so Zampano makes a clown out of her.

As conceived by Fellini, Gelsomina wasn't too bright, but she had a distinct appreciation for life which made it all the more crushing when Zampano, enraged, murdered an acrobat-clown who poked fun at him. Her disintegration and the subsequent realization by Zampano that he had lost his only chance for salvation.

Anyone who doubts there is some powerful meat to these bones is invited to see how Fellini handled it.

Surely Peter Shaffer's "Black Comedy" is a lineal descendant of Mack Sennett's silent classics. It adapts an old Chinese vaudeville technique of lighting the stage during the ostensible blackouts and darkening the stage when the characters are supposedly in light, allowing the audience to watch the characters stumbling around in the dark, knocking things over, tripping and other low devices.

As Shaffer applies it, a starving sculptor is about to be simultaneously visited by his fiancée's father and by a wealthy benefactor who may buy some of his work—and then there's a power failure. Assorted complications involve the return of a gay neighbor unexpectedly from his weekend, while the sculptor has borrowed some of the neighbor's furniture to impress his girl's father, and the return of an old flame while daddy is being entertained. Thanks to a total lack of light, discovery is foreshadowed while the harried hero tries to separate the converging menaces.

"Black Comedy," is the opener at Meadow Brook Theatre, this week playing at the Art Institute. Director John Fernald, unfortunately, has little flare for slapstick; he seems afraid to let go. The result is mild chuckles where there should be belly laughs. Then too, the cast is too conscious that the stage is lit; they should be playing as if they were in total darkness but they are unable to totally abandon themselves to darkness. The cast-Toby Tompkins as the sculptor, Bonnie Hurren as his girl, Richard Curnock as her father, Jeremy Rowe as the gay neighbor—is adequate but not spectacular.

The companion piece is Albee's "The American Dream," which ten years ago was the end-all and be-all of absurd theater. Today it seems almost old hat. Director Anthony J. Stimac stages his dissection of American life's false values well; Barbara Byrne especially scores as Grandma, but "American Dream," oddly enough is almost a period piece now.

Prior to the opening of the filmed "Paint Your Wagon," there was opportunity to refresh memories about Lerner and Lowe's first big hit as Eastern Michigan opened its season last week. A comparison of the two works will appear next week. As with many college efforts the cast is uneven but several of the leads were well handled including Jim Grant as Ben Rumson (who sings about 1,000 times better than Lee Marvin), and Earl T. Taylor as Steve. However, listening to Eastern's orchestra is one of the most painful experiences a critic can suffer. Jeanne Parsons Boston's choreography was imaginative.

Just what the automobile has done to modern cities could be a most interesting theme and the notion that municipal circulation has been left in the hands of the computers could be the basis for some rather wicked statements—but "The Italian Job" muffs the ball completely. What remains is a routine mod crime caper with improbable overtones of slapstick.

Michael Caine masterminds an invasion of English crooks who seek to steal large amount of Italian gold from under the nose of the Mafia. The complicated plot requires switching a computer tape which controls all Roman traffic resulting in a huge traffic jam.

What happens next wouldn't be believable in a fairy tale. An armed band hijacks an armored car snarled in traffic, stalled conveniently near the gang's warehouse; the gang escapes by minicars through the most bizarre route imaginable, mostly indoors. Slapstick is king and the film ends on the horns of a moral as indecisive

The Old Capitol; Disaster Country

By DON HOENSHELL

PANAX staff writer

First in a series

LANSING--Scaffolding left by an electrical contractor blocks the only enclosed route to safety from fire on the fourth floor of the state capitol.

Scores could be trapped in a massive pileup of humanity in case of fire.

The big planks of the scaffold rest on a two-by-four brace that would take precious minutes to move under ideal conditions. In an emergency among fearful people, the result would be disaster.

A Panax newspaper reporter and photographer walked down the steps of the steel staircase built in a triangular area outside the dome.

"Even under ideal circumstances, that stairway is just a stairway," said Lt. Glen Tanner, of the Michigan State Police fire marshal's division. "It's not much better than any other stairway."

There are six other retreats from fire on the fourth floor, four of them open stairways which would become "chimneys for the smoke and gasses as well as flame," Tanner said.

And there are two elevators, which Tanner and Lansing Fire Marshal Philip Alber agreed would be the worst places to be with a fire raging through the building.

Files bound for storage and lawmakers' stationery headed for the printer are piled in boxes in the fourth floor corridors. Discarded wooden doors are stored in the far north end of an attic on the same floor.

"It's not good," said Tanner. "They (the state) have not done anything to make that building safe."

He pointed to the open staircases and the necessary volume of paper it takes to operate a legislature, the gaping rotunda which would become a flue carrying fire, smoke, and asphyxiating gasses upward.

"That all is the bestial part of it," he said. "Even that inside fire escape is just a staircase next to what could be a furnace. The stairways down are nothing but chimneys."

"Some of them (legislators) know it's a firetrap. We can't take the state to court, we can only point out what is wrong. They have not done the things necessary to make it safe."

Tanner said there are ways to make the building safe but declined to estimate the cost. He was asked where in the state capitol it would be safe to work. He said:

"I don't know where it would be safe to work in the capitol."

Alber said his department is on call to protect any state office building in Lansing, including the capitol. Inspections, he said, are handled by the state fire marshal's office.

In 1966, the legislature installed several house trailers to the rear of the building for offices, four feet from the main building. Alber's office "hit the ceiling on that one" and demanded a 10-foot separation.

Albers said the legislature has cooperated with most of his office's informal recommendations, but the installation of wire-coated glass windows for fire resistance still hasn't been accomplished.

He said he "wasn't at all happy about" the state drilling a hole in a first floor vault to get air to the official state seal and original records locked inside and the hole was plugged.

Albers did have a hope for the 75 to 100 lawmakers and staff people if fire broke out or swept up from below to the fourth floor.

He said a fire alarm from the capitol brings two ladder companies, two engine companies, a high pressure (water) company and a deputy chief. The department has two 100-foot and 85-foot aerial ladders.

"We could reach anywhere there are people in the capitol building," he said. "But most of the people trapped in such a building die from smoke and gas rather than flame."

Michigan is planning a new capitol and has already appropriated more than $6 million to plan and start construction. Controversy rages and the three choices still exist:

* A new capitol at up to $75 million.

* Restoration of the present capitol for up to $17 million

* Doing nothing.

There was conclusive evidence at hand during the Panax check into the situation to show that the present capitol is at present unsafe, would be difficult to expand and expensive to bring up to safe standards.

Engineer William C. Roege, working with the Legislative Fiscal Agency on building problems, said there is some pressure from Lansing businessmen to keep the old capitol where it is, at business' front door.

"A few years ago, the city wanted to put a parking garage on this site so it appears to be a matter of whose ox is being gored," he said.

Problems mount annually with the aging capitol, now 88 years old.

The state gets steam for heat and electricity for light from the Board of Water and Light Commission of Lansing. There is no way to ventilate the building aside from window air conditioners. Besides their inadequacy, they ruin whatever esthetic quality remaining in the capitol's exterior appearance.

Roege estimates it will cost $15 million to $20 million to restore the capitol even as a historical site, a demand of the historical buffs.

"Most of the people who don't want change have never been in the building," Roege said.

And down on the ground floor where the Senate

Appropriations Committee considers Michigan's $1 billion plus budget every year, the traces of the past remain.

"On a Monday morning, you can go into the appropriations Committee room and you can smell that it once was a stable," Roege said.

The room sizes are fixed in the capitol and engineers are called in to determine whether supporting arches and columns will be damaged before a door is out into a wall.

Because the rooms are small, Roege said they would make poor display areas for historical artifacts. The original building had 180,000 square feet of usable space, reduced by 1966 to 94,000 square feet.

Michigan's capitol now has a space efficiency ratio of 52 per cent. The usable space, under renovation would drop to 46,800 square feet, an efficiency ratio of 42 per cent, a figure which would be further reduced if the building were to be changed to meet fire regulations.

Modern office buildings have an efficiency ratio of 82 to 85 per cent.

Roege said the capitol is in danger of crumbling at its base.

In the sub-basement which houses heating and another equipment and an area where school children used to have their sack lunches, the floors are below the bottom of the walls.

There is an area between the floors and the walls which is a gradually cracking combination of cement and small stones. Reports show the weight on the soil is grossly in excess of modern standards.

Cracks have appeared on the outer walls and in the ceilings. To engineer Roege this means that "one part wants to go one way, another part wants to go another way."

The building is settling upon itself.

Thus fire is a critical threat but there are other factors militating against trying to restore or expand the capitol on a patchwork basis to make it fit the needs of a growing state government.

State Police Capt. Glenroy Walker, the state fire marshal, is calm and reasonable but tough.

"The only reason he doesn't (enforce regulations against state officials) is because we're the legislature," Roege said. "He doesn't let anybody else get away with this kind of thing."

Fiscal agency experts said the cost of restoring the 88-year-old capitol is rising 12 to 15 per cent every year. New construction costs are going up 10 to 12 per cent, or $500,000 a year on a $50 million project.

Restoration would require a five-year hiatus for state government, finding another temporary place to operate. The City of Lansing has offered its civic center, a block south and west, for sale, but the city wants enough money to build another civic center elsewhere.

The point made by the engineers in mountains of reports over the years, by other charged with operating state buildings, and by legislators is this:

Michigan's capitol is endangered by fire, by crumbling support arches and by its overcrowded conditions. Its usable space is less than 50 per cent of efficiency and the cost of restoration is awesome.

Rep. Thomas Ford (R-Grand Rapids), a GOP leader in the House, said:

"As far as I'm concerned, it's just a matter of when we tear this place down as a hazardous, inefficient building, and build a new capitol."

"We've reached the point where we can't put any more people and any more government into this building. It's just a matter now of when we can get moving."

Peppermint was commercially cultivated in England about 1750.

Victorian Kitchen Lends Beauty

Back in Victorian days, when houses had space to spare and servants aplenty, proper families began the day with a ritualistic breakfast served in the dining room. With this responsibility dispatched, domestics tackled the kitchen, nannies herded their charges to the nursery, and the lady of the house withdrew to a private retreat known as the "morning room."

An English architectural term, the morning room is best described as a "sitting-reading-writing room usually with a sunny exposure, which was used for a lady's morning activities such as menu planning, checking household accounts, and social correspondence."

According to Barbara Brody, interior decorating consultant, the closest a modern homemaker is apt to get to a morning room is her kitchen breakfast table which also serves as her study, work and hobby area, and telephone and social center.

Durable materials that are easy to care for and pretty enough to give a lift to both the eye and the spirits are essential to the morning room philosophy, said Miss Brody, who counsels the B. Brody Seating Company, Chicago, manufacturer of metal dining furniture.

"And if the kitchen you have to live with doesn't have the requisite 'sunny exposure,' a measure of imagination and a dash of common sense in decorating can simulate the real thing nicely," she said.

Color is vitally important to a happy kitchen. If the room is small, a monochromatic color scheme that matches or blends with table and chairs can be the answer. In larger rooms, boldly patterned wallpapers that climb up the walls and even across the ceiling can unify the area and lend warmth on the dreariest day.

If there is no window, the mood of sunlight can still be achieved with carefully placed lighting, brightly painted walls and a few well chosen pictures and accessories.

Equally important is the matter of table space and kitchen seating that serve as today's counterparts of the Victorian work table and balloon back chairs.

"Be conscious of size and scale," Miss Brody advised, "and choose furnishings to fit the room as well as the size of the family."

A ranch-size table, for example, is a splendid investment for a spacious room. But a more compact type may be the only choice for a breakfast area where space is tight. In both cases, however, the homemaker will find a wide variety of suitable "morning room" furniture designs to meet every demand of her busy kitchen.

Current choices in the Brody dining furniture line range from exotic Oriental modern to the crisp lines of contemporary chrome and from the romance of simulated wood carvings in Mediterranean style to the cherry warmth of Early American in maple or pine finishes on hardwoods.

New chair and table bases in lively pineapple or avocado colors can also go a long way toward producing an all-season look of sunshine.

His, Hers Bathroom Battle Has Solution

She likes embroidered towels; he prefers them plain. She's sold on ruffled eyelet curtains; he'd far rather have venetian blinds or, better yet, just frosted glass. And on and on it goes, in the perennial battle of the bathroom. It's Mrs. versus Mr. all over the land, and neither side ever really wins or loses.

as one that manages to be luxurious and yet practical, elegant and yet utilitarian.

"Discover the magic of color and texture," she advised homemakers, referring to the two main ingredients of today's popular deep-pile bath accessories and matching rugs.

"Even the man who thinks he craves the simple life—white duck for a shower curtain and bare tiles for the floor—is apt to back down when his bare toes first savor the velvety softness of a pretty new rug and perhaps a matching cover for the bathroom scales," she predicted.

"Remember, however, that decorating the bathroom to please is only part of a good wife's responsibility," Miss Norwood cautioned.

For year-round harmony, she suggested the following short checklist for the distaff side:

1. Keep your own counter clutter under control. Use a pretty tray to hold all those bottles, jars, and tubes and make them look organized, even when they're not.

2. After doing your own face, always grab a tissue and clear the sink of powder and stray hairs. It's 10 seconds well spent.

3. Make sure your 'drip-dryables' are no longer there when he's ready for a shower or bath.

4. Replace soap, toothpaste, towels, and burned-out light bulbs (if you can reach) before he has a chance to miss them.

5. Don't nag about his dirty socks on the floor; just pick them up and pretend he's perfect.

ACCESSORY ITEMS grouped against this wall background given an artistic touch to this bathroom. The plastic-finished hardboard wall paneling comes from Abitibi Corporation, and is designed to withstand all kinds of splashing.

Walls---Everybody Wants to Fill Them

In practically every standard house or apartment lease, there's a fine type paragraph that forbids tenants to attach or hang anything on the walls. And in practically every rental transaction, that particular clause is quietly ignored by both tenant and landlord.

So predominant is the practice of garnishing walls, in fact, that modern college dormitory rooms are often planned to permit and even encourage it, according to Mary Ann Wills, decorating consultant for Arabesque, Traverse City, Mich., wall accessories manufacturer.

Today's collegians, like those before them, still delight in hanging posters, pennants, souvenirs, and signs snatched from favorite eateries or even roadides. For the span of a school year, they make great conversation pieces. And in summer, they provide easier work for painters.

Once out of school, most young adults gradually develop a taste for wall decor that is more significant in terms of artistic value and lasting interest. But they still prefer items that rate high as conversation pieces, rejecting anything they consider mundane or perhaps corny.

"At any age, individual taste is what should dictate one's choice in wall accessories—for that matter, in all accessories for the home," Miss Wills declared.

The enormous variety of individual likes and dislikes among people of all ages is what guides the Arabesque designers in developing new ideas for all kinds of wall decor, to be created by woodcarvers and sculptors and then reproduced in simulated wood or other materials.

Just now, for example, there is continuing emphasis on the Mediterranean design trend. So the latest Arabesque collections naturally have included numerous plaques, clocks, sconces, and mirrors with Spanish overtones. But what of the homemakers—and there are many—who haven't chosen to go in for "Mediterranean?" Don't they, too, have the urge to decorate?

"The answer is yes, of course," Miss Wills declared. "And it's for these very homemakers—the 'independents,' if you will—that new contemporary, traditional, and transitional designs have also been created."

EYE-CATCHING wall paneling in a teakwood-grained hardboard sets the pace for this modern theme den alcove.

Perfect for a Wall; A Coat of Arms

If there's a skeleton in your closet, leave it there. But if there's a family coat of arms in your attic, dust it off and hang it over the fireplace.

That's the advice of interior design consultant Mary Ann Wills, who reports that ancestry is the latest thing in this age of anything-goes decorating ideas.

"To the dismay of heraldic and genealogical experts here and abroad, mail-order coats of arms have turned into a booming business," she reported. "You merely send in a check, and back comes a heraldic design that may or may not have any direct connection with your forebears."

According to the experts, in fact, chances of receiving a legitimate coat of arms in this manner are exceedingly remote. There are, for example, at least 384 different Smith family arms on record. Without exhaustive genealogical research, it would be nearly impossible to connect a present-day Smith with the proper Smith of an earlier century.

"If you're more interested in aesthetics than in authenticity, however, it doesn't particularly matter," observed Miss Wills, who serves as consultant to Burwood Products Company, Traverse City, Mich., manufacturer of Arabesque wall accessories.

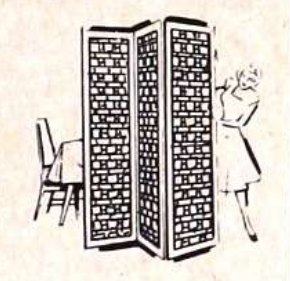

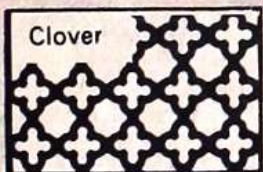

"After all, it's the mood that matters most in decorating," she noted. "And if a colorful coat of arms helps to create the mood you want, why not use it?"

Though it's been suggested that people are turning to heraldry for a sense of identity in this era of numbers for everything, Miss Wills puts greater importance on the decorative aspect.

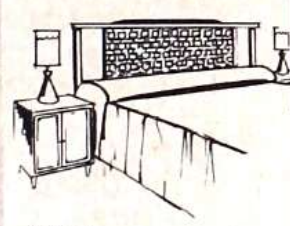

"Many families couldn't care less about the ancestral significance of heraldic design," she declared. "What they do like is the pageantry and color of a centuries-old tradition. To some it may represent a status symbol, but to most, it's merely a welcome relief from the starkness of modern architecture and possibly a reaction to modern art forms."

The truth of her argument is illustrated by the lasting popularity of numerous Arabesque wall plaques that

Wintertime Means Need for Space

During winter months houses suddenly seem to be smaller. That's because children are indoors playing for longer periods of time and need more room for toys and games. So, many families pressed for additional floor space are remodeling attics and basements into more livable areas. These unfinished rooms are very often large enough to accommodate games such as shuffleboard and electric train and racing car sets.

To keep costs down, many families select a good-looking vinyl asbestos tile as the floor covering. This floor covering is recommended by The Better Floors Council for do-it-yourself installation, and thus the only monetary cost is for materials. Handy homeowners can find complete installation instructions and guidance on the number of tile needed from their local floor covering dealer.

If a basement floor is being covered, a light color tile is recommended. It reflects light and makes the room brighter and cheerier. Today's embossed patterns in travertine, mosaic and pebble designs are especially popular for their adaptability with different furniture styles.

For a well-lighted attic area, one of the new brick or slate patterns provides a warm, homey background for familiar furnishings.
